24-Hour Postponement

Big 4 Ministers Delay Parley At Gromyko Request

GENEVA (AP)—The Big Four foreign ministers today postponed their talks for 24 hours at the request of Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

The postponement was announced shortly before the ministers were scheduled to meet at Gromyko's villa.

The Soviet foreign minister requested the delay during a private luncheon with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd. Lloyd quickly obtained agreement from U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville.

The postponement will allow Gromyko another day to consult Moscow and study the new Western compromise formula for a stopgap Berlin settlement. It was assumed the Soviet government still had not reached a definite decision.

Moscow radio reported that Soviet and East German leaders met at the Kremlin today to discuss the Big Four problem in an atmosphere of "complete mutual understanding and friendship."

Western diplomats had expected to hear this afternoon whether the Soviets were willing at least to negotiate on the basis of the new plan. Gromyko was critical of the plan but had asked for 24 hours to study it before giving a definite reply.

Western spokesmen had made it clear that a rejection of the new formula by Gromyko would mean the end of the six-week-old foreign ministers conference.

Some high Western officials considered this only a tactical maneuver to give the Kremlin the appearance of seriously considering the Western offer before torpedoing it.

Others thought Gromyko actually wanted time to get new instructions from Premier Nikita Khrushchev and that some major Soviet concession might be forthcoming.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville were agreed that if Gromyko came into today's secret conference session with the clear intent of bargaining, they were prepared to make reasonable changes in the plan.

But it was said they would not weaken the key demand that the Soviet Union pledge not to interfere with the flow of Western traffic to West Berlin and the stationing of Western troops there.

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter was preparing to insist on a quick windup of the conference, however the bargaining went.

The new Western plan was delivered to Gromyko Tuesday night. The Western ministers went into the conference session Wednesday afternoon expecting it to be a crucial meeting.

It turned out to be the shortest so far. Gromyko did most of the talking, for about 15 minutes. Fifteen more minutes were occupied in translating his remarks from Russian. Then the session ended.

Pedestrian And Driver Of Car Killed

Hitch-Hiker Injured As Auto Runs Wild On Hill At Wellsburg

STEUBENVILLE — An auto that went out of control in nearby Wellsburg, W. Va. Wednesday night at 7:30 resulted in a double fatality—the 23-year-old driver and an aged pedestrian.

A hitch-hiker was injured seriously.

The victims were identified by Brooke County Sheriff Dave Rose as:

Donald Clifford Mains, 23, of Follansbee, driver of the 1950 model car, and John (Jack) R. Farmer, 72, of Wellsburg, who was standing off the highway when hit.

Thomas Watkins, 19, of Wheeling is in "fair" condition today at the Ohio Valley General Hospital at Wheeling with severe lacerations of the face, head and body.

The sheriff's office said the the car went out of control on a steep hill leading into the West Virginia community and overturned.

The injured man will be questioned in an effort to determine what caused the auto to careen wildly down the long hill at a speed of over 60 miles-per-hour, strike the retired employe of the Monongahela Power Co. and then overturn, killing the driver instantly.

The elderly man had been visiting a son, Ambrose, who resides on Washington Pike just outside the city limits of Wellsburg.

Mr. Farmer was a 20-year veteran of the utility, a member of Wellsburg Masonic Lodge 2 and a

$1 Million Damage Set On Property

4-Block Residential Section Hardest Hit; Downtown Is Spared

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Greater Miami area's first tornado in 10 years struck near bedtime Wednesday night, leaving at least 100 persons injured, some of them seriously.

"You just don't get that kind of damage from a straight wind," said forecaster Paul Moore in identifying the vicious storm.

It was the first twister to hit the southeast Florida coast since the late 1940s when a tornado ripped up property during a hurricane, Moore said.

Scores of bayfront homes were left in wreckage amid tangles of tree trunks, signs and overturned automobiles as the storm leapfrogged over a 12-mile path. Hundreds of persons were driven from their homes.

An 11-year-old boy, Frank Vaselotti, was reported in critical condition with head injuries.

Nearly 60 persons, some seriously hurt, were treated by hospitals, police, and civil defense units mustered on a disaster footing. In all, about 100 were hurt, the Florida Highway Patrol said.

No one was reported killed.

Hardest hit was a four-block residential and business area around the 79th Street causeway where police Sgt. Stewart Cooley estimated the loss would run at at least to one million dollars. It missed downtown Miami.

L. S. Pope, picked up bleeding on the causeway, said he was on the second floor of a five-family dwelling when its roof blew off. His bed was flung into the air.

Don Shoemaker, who lives in the area, said: "I've been through two tornadoes and have never seen anything like this. It looked like a bomb had hit."

Mrs. Nola Cone, 40, scrambled out of wreckage of her bar with six patrons, shaken but unhurt.

"I've seen Oklahoma tornadoes but none like this," she said. "I heard this roaring sound and yelled 'Everybody hit the floor and get under something.'

"Then it struck. Bottles flew through the air. The cash register—it takes two men to lift it—fell off the counter. Parts of the ceiling fell down.

"The tornado must have lasted two minutes. As soon as it let up, I shouted 'Count off. I want to hear seven voices.' And, thank God, they all spoke up. We got out of there."

John Brandt, 54, said he and his wife were in their small apartment when something wrenched their front window out of its frame.

"We ran into the bathroom," Brandt said. "I braced my back against the door and my feet against the bathtub. If I hadn't the tornado would have been in there with us."

City police, sheriff's deputies, a Florida Highway Patrol detachment, and Civil Defense auxiliaries shunted curiosity-seekers away from the area and guarded against looting from stores and homes where building fronts stood wrenched open.

"Everything we had is gone—leveled," said Dr. George Ferro. "My $40,000 house is destroyed. There's a grapefruit tree where our living room was—our pool's been ripped out of the ground."

In a single block of north Bayshore Drive, in the area of greatest destruction, more than a dozen automobiles lay overturned or crumpled. Some had been slammed against buildings.

Chester Files Plea Against Gas Rate Hike

700 Sign Petition Forwarded As PSC Conducts Hearing

Petitions bearing signatures of about 700 Chester residents protesting a proposed gas rate increase were mailed this morning to the West Virginia Public Service Commission at Charleston where the second day of a public hearing on the new rate request was under way.

Councilman Charles Kology said the protest petitions, in circulation about a month, were placed in the mail this morning in the battle against the rate hike sought by the Manufacturers Light & Heat Co.

At the hearing Wednesday, the utility said its proposed higher rates would mean an increase of 11 cents a day for a typical residential customer heating with gas.

Company Atty. H. A. Kramer of Pittsburgh also told the PSC that the new rates, designed to produce $2,078,000 for an annual gross revenue from about 48,500 Northern West Virginia customers, would represent an overall increase of about 20 per cent.

City attorneys, George G. Bailey of Wheeling, Charles Bell of Wellsburg and Steven D. Narick of Benwood and McMechen, represented their communities as protestants.

Other protestants included the communities of Weirton and Follansbee. The PSC had on file 42

Fire Damage At Parsonage May Be $5,000

Wiring Seen Cause Of Blaze At Property Of First Baptists

Damage was estimated from $3,500 to $5,000 in a fire which gutted the second floor of the First Baptist Church parsonage, 1034 Bradshaw Ave., Wednesday.

The fire and heat damaged the parsonage owned by the church and the furniture and personal belongings of the Rev. Robert C. Turner and family.

The blaze is believed to have been smouldering for sometime in the tightly-closed home before it was discovered at 10:45 a. m. by John Marrelli, operator of a market across the street.

Rev. and Mrs. Turner and their daughter had left the home about 8:40 a. m. to attend the Daily Vacation Bible School.

Firemen said the blaze started between the flooring on the second floor, apparently from defective wiring, and had spread to a clothes closet, other upstairs closets and kitchen ceiling before the department was notified.

The entire upstairs of the home was blistered from the intense heat and most of the family's clothing and personal belongings were destroyed. Some of the furniture also were destroyed and other pieces will have to be refinished, Rev. Turner said.

The parsonage is covered by insurance but Rev. Turner said he had no insurance on the contents.

The minister and his family are staying at the home of a member of the congregation, Mrs. Ada Bangor, 626 Avondale St., until repairs can be made to the parsonage. Mrs. Bangor and family left yesterday for a visit in California.

Firemen were called to Webber Way at 5:25 p. m. Wednesday when some youngsters burning trash set fire to railroad ties.

Wellsville Truck Bags Deer On Midland Road

A "beautiful" two-point buck was killed about 7:45 a. m. today on Route 68 between Midland and East Liverpool when it ran in front of a Wellsville driver on his way to work.

Midland police reported extensive damage to the front of a truck driven by Leland Birch, 825 Township Line Rd., Wellsville.

Bernard Zlatovich, Ohio Township police constable was notified. Oran Freshcorn, Beaver County game warden, will take the carcass to a county institution.

AUBURN, Mass. (AP)—Six persons were killed Wednesday night on the Massachusetts Turnpike when an automobile leaped the dividing strip of the dual highway and was rammed by another car.

Yoho Attacks Former Boss After Ouster

HARRISBURG — Robert Yoho of Homewood, fired Tuesday from his job in the Pennsylvania Labor and Industry office for alleged participation in shakedown of Beaver County road contractors, has hit back at Labor & Industry Secretary William L. Batt, claiming Batt directed him to collect party contributions.

Yoho, who denied working in the collection of money in Beaver County for the organization of Samuel G. Neff, former Democratic chairman also recently fired, said he was under Batt's orders to handle sales of tickets for campaign dinners in 1958 and 1959.

Yoho, burgess of Homewood, was released from his $6,380-a-year job with Batt this week on the recommendation of Aud. Gen. Charles C. Smith.

"I was instructed to make two collections or sales of tickets," Yoho said, referring to the Lawrence-Leader campaign in July 1958 and again in April of this year.

He said he was told by Batt in 1958 to collect $100 for a ticket from each employe making $4,000 or more a year, or $25 from any earning less. He said he was ordered this year to get $100 from anyone making more than $3,000.

Yoho said the minimum was later raised to $3,800 by Batt at a staff meeting.

Sec. Batt has concurred in the establishment of such quotas for tickets, but has said they were all voluntary. "The nature of these contributions is emphasized by the fact that about half the department's non-civil service employes did not find it possible to make any contributions at all," Batt declared.

Burial In Pauper's Grave Slated For His Slain Brother

WAREHAM, Mass. (AP) — A speedy murder trial for one and burial in a pauper's grave for the other were in prospect today for the notorious Coyle brothers who shot it out with police and lost.

John Coyle, 24, charged with killing a Philadelphia policeman, said he is ready to return to Philadelphia voluntarily to face trial.

A court arraignment on local charges was considered routine before Coyle is brought back to Philadelphia in shackles.

Coyle's younger brother, William, 22, was mortally wounded by police in an exchange of gunfire at the edge of a Middleboro cranberry bog Wednesday.

John dropped his two guns and surrendered when 12 state troopers, all with guns blazing, pumped four bullets into the younger Coyle.

Each of the Coyles had fired on the police with guns in both hands, but none of the troopers was touched.

The gunfight ended one of the most intensive manhunts in Massachusetts history. More than 300 policemen had kept the Coyle brothers in a five-square-mile swampy woodland since last Monday.

They had fled into the woods after exchanging shots with two policemen who tried to nab them for robbing a nearby liquor store and firing a shot into the store's counter. As they fled they abandoned a hostage they had held captive, nearly foodless, for 10 days.

William Sedgwick, 49, said he had been grabbed in Philadelphia June 6, and driven in his car, while tied in the back seat, to Massachusetts.

Police said the Coyles were fleeing after they had shot to death Patrolman James Kane, 27, who had spotted the brothers stealing milk from front porches.

The surviving brother showed no remorse when informed William was dead. He told police: "Well, you killed him, you worry about burying him. We have no relatives."

Steel, Union Prefer Own Pact Parley

NEW YORK (AP)—Top negotiators for the steel industry and union say they would rather work out a contract settlement here themselves than be called to the White House for talks.

The statement was made by David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America, and R. Conrad Cooper, chief negotiator for the 12 largest steel companies and executive vice president of the United States Steel Corp.

McDonald and Cooper expressed the view after being informed of President Eisenhower's declaration that he did not intend to call union and management representatives to the White House in a move to prevent a strike.

The union has been demanding a substantial but unspecified wage increase, a reduction in the 40-hour work week and other benefits.

The industry has been calling for a one-year freeze on wages and other employe benefits, contending this would help curb inflation.

Queen, Philip Take Off For Canada Tour

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip left by jet airliner today for a 45-day tour of Canada.

Fog will force the royal party to land first at the U.S. airbase at Argentia, Nfld.

Bad weather over St. Johns, the Newfoundland capital, forced British Overseas Airways Corp. to switch the landing spot. Fog has shrouded much of the rocky coast of Newfoundland for days.

From Argentia, the Queen, Prince Philip and their 11 attendants will make the 85-mile trip to St. Johns by car.

The shift in the landing spot postponed the Queen's arrival ceremonies at St. Johns about three hours, until late afternoon, and meant a curtailment of her first drive about St. Johns.

Canadian warships and planes were posted on the comet's flight path in the Western half of the Atlantic in case of trouble. British vessels and the Royal Air Force furnished protection along the first half of the route.

Queen, Philip Take Off For Canada Tour

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip left by jet airliner today for a 45-day tour of Canada.

Fog will force the royal party to land first at the U.S. airbase at Argentia, Nfld.

Bad weather over St. Johns, the Newfoundland capital, forced British Overseas Airways Corp. to switch the landing spot. Fog has shrouded much of the rocky coast of Newfoundland for days.

From Argentia, the Queen, Prince Philip and their 11 attendants will make the 85-mile trip to St. Johns by car.

The shift in the landing spot postponed the Queen's arrival ceremonies at St. Johns about three hours, until late afternoon, and meant a curtailment of her first drive about St. Johns.

Canadian warships and planes were posted on the comet's flight path in the Western half of the Atlantic in case of trouble. British vessels and the Royal Air Force furnished protection along the first half of the route.

Wellsville Truck Bags Deer On Midland Road

A "beautiful" two-point buck was killed about 7:45 a. m. today on Route 68 between Midland and East Liverpool when it ran in front of a Wellsville driver on his way to work.

Midland police reported extensive damage to the front of a truck driven by Leland Birch, 825 Township Line Rd., Wellsville.

6 Killed In Wreck

AUBURN, Mass. (AP)—Six persons were killed Wednesday night on the Massachusetts Turnpike when an automobile leaped the dividing strip of the dual highway and was rammed by another car.

Midland Will Be Host

Gov. Lawrence Will Speak At Steelworkers' Meeting

Gov. David L. Lawrence will be a speaker Saturday at the annual conference of District 20, United Steelworkers of America, at Local 1212 headquarters in Midland. The conference begins Friday.

Some 350 delegates are expected to attend this, largest conference ever held by steelworkers in Beaver County. David J. McDonald, president, is not expected to attend due to vital negotiations in New York.

Friday's session will begin at 10 a. m. Burgess Eli G. Corak will give the welcome address. Fr. Francis E. Paul, pastor of the Presentation Catholic Church, will give the invocation.

Kay Kluz, permanent chairman and acting director in the absence of Bert Hough, director of District 20, will be introduced by Joe D'Alesio, 1212 president.

Howard Hague, International vice president, and John Grajcier, director of District 21, will make direct reports on the current status of negotiations with "Big Steel." Both have been attending negotiations and Grajcier is chairman of the U.S. Steel negotiating committee.

Speakers tomorrow afternoon will include Rep. Frank M. Clark of the 25th Congressional District, State Sen. John C. Miller and Assemblymen R. K. Hamilton, Charles Stone and William Kovolenko. Delegates will also hear an address by Emery Bacon, union director of education.

Saturday morning's speech by Gov. Lawrence will be taped for broadcast over area radio stations.

The conference will close with the annual banquet in the union hall. I. W. Abel, international secretary-treasurer, will speak. His talk will be broadcast at 8:15 p. m.

Kluz will be toastmaster. Dr. Leroy S. Cass, pastor of the Methodist Church, will give the invocation. Mrs. Lewis R. Ferrell of Ambridge will furnish dinner music.

Midland Locals 1212, 1269, 5047, 4999, 1274 and 5059 will have delegates at the sessions.

Steel, Union Prefer Own Pact Parley

NEW YORK (AP)—Top negotiators for the steel industry and union say they would rather work out a contract settlement here themselves than be called to the White House for talks.

The statement was made by David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America, and R. Conrad Cooper, chief negotiator for the 12 largest steel companies and executive vice president of the United States Steel Corp.

McDonald and Cooper expressed the view after being informed of President Eisenhower's declaration that he did not intend to call union and management representatives to the White House in a move to prevent a strike.

The union has been demanding a substantial but unspecified wage increase, a reduction in the 40-hour work week and other benefits.

The industry has been calling for a one-year freeze on wages and other employe benefits, contending this would help curb inflation.

Summer Street Program Aired

A brief discussion of the summer street improvement in Chester was held at a meeting of Council Wednesday night.

A representative of the Ohio Tar & Asphalt Co. of Canton is to meet with councilmen next Wednesday to study the streets to be included in the project—Fairview St., Fairview Rd., Pyramus St. and Lawrenceville Rd.

Councilman Charles Kology, chairman of the street committee, said oiling of unpaved streets and alleys has been delayed because many residents have not paid their share. He said oil will be applied only upon payment of the costs.

Kology said the oil and cost of application amounts to 12 cents a gallon, and it is estimated $40 will pay for one block of roadway area. Payments may be made at the City Hall or with Street Commissioner Roy Walker.

Council also authorized a letter to be sent to William Boyd, Hancock County director for the State Road Commission, requesting Carolina Ave. be cleaned from 1st to 8th Sts., and 1st St. be cleaned from Carolina Ave. to the Chester Bridge. Councilman James Waggle said dirt has accumulated curb high on 1st St. and should be removed.

A study will be made by councilmen of reported parking on both sides of city alleys. Lee Haney, Chester firemen, said he noticed such parking and the crowding would have prevented fire trucks from entering the alley in event of a blaze.

COUNCIL discussed the possible date when collection of sewage fees will begin under the recently approved sewage disposal ordinance. Mayor Burton Ward suggested councilmen confer with members of the Sanitary Board at the next Council meeting July 1 for further discussion.

The purchase of two fire hydrants was authorized for George St. and Montana Ave. The location will be determined by Fire Chief Raymond Gibbs and they will be installed by the water department.

First reading was given to a proposed amendment to the city driver's license regulation, reducing the fee from $2 to $1 for new residents who move into the city after Jan. 1. The reduced fee would also apply to motorists who obtain a state license after Jan. 1.

FOLLOWING A report of complaints about stray dogs by Councilmen Walter McSwegin, Council authorized Clerk Roy Cashdollar to notify Edward Supplee, county assessor and director of dog wardens.

Paul McHenry of Columbia Dr. requested clearing of weeds and brush along the Ohio River bank near the 1st St. pump station and Councilman John Abrams of the water committee said the water department will work on the project.

Lawrence Smoot of the Washington School Rd. was granted permission to utilize a section of the old Chester-Newell Rd. to build a private garage. The right-of-way was turned over to the city by the state several years ago when the present road was built.

PERMISSION was granted to the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co. to break a curb at the parking lot along Phoenix Ave. for a driveway into the lot. The company is to maintain the sidewalk, it was stipulated.

Mayor Ward commended the fire department for its work in the fire at the William Scarry home Monday morning. A letter was received from Mr. and Mrs. Paul Finley of 3rd St., commending city officials, police and firemen for their aid when the Finley home was recently struck by a station wagon.

Farmers In Hancock Will Vote On Wheat

Polling places will be set up in Hancock County for a vote by wheat farmers July 23 on a wheat marketing quota referendum, C. C. Herron of Pughtown, chairman of the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said.

Locations of the polling sites will be announced soon by the ASC committee and every wheat grower will be informed of the individual wheat allotment for his farm in advance of the referendum date, Herron said.

Marketing quotas for the 1960 wheat crop have been proclaimed by the secretary of agriculture, as required by legislation whenever the available supply of wheat is more than 20 per cent above the normal supply.

Moore Denies Pamphlet O.K

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Arch Moore Jr. West Virginia 1st District congressman, denied Wednesday he ordered preparation of unsigned campaign pamphlets used in his successful race for re-election last year.

Moore was called as a witness by defense attorneys in the Federal District Court trial of his former aide, Keith H. Jaques, who is charged with publishing, distributing and causing the pamphlets to be transported in interstate commerce.

Jaques has testified he acted on orders by Moore in preparation of the campaign material for use in the congressmen's race against Robert H. Mollohan, a Democrat.

The representative's denial that he asked the Republican National Congressional Campaign committee to prepare the pamphlets was in contradition to testimony given by Edward K. Nellor, committee employe.

Moore said he did not see the finished pamphlets until Oct. 31, but admitted that he had glanced at a copy on Oct. 28 or 29 when Jaques brought several cartons of them to his home in Glen Dale, W. Va.

Earlier, a pretty congressional receptionist testified she heard Jaques say he thought the pamphlets were a "good idea."

Miss Alice Dunn, 26, receptionist in Moore's office, told the Jury she had Jaques use the words "good idea" in a conversation with Moore about preparation of the pamphlets.

Jaques testified earlier he consistently opposed use of the pamphlets. Jaques appeared stunned by Miss Dunn's testimony.

The pamphlet was described in earlier testimony as carrying the title "United Miners' Journal," and as resembling the "United Mine Workers Journal" in an apparent effort to create the impression the UMW was opposing Mollohan. The union supported Mollohan.

Mrs. Viola Rodgers is director and Mrs. Joy Morehead is assistant. The Rev. William A. Hewitt is pastor.

Woman Hurt In Crash Remains Hospitalized

Mrs. John A. Varavette, 728 Beaver Ave., Midland, is in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital with injuries received in a traffic crash at an entrance of the Midland Slag Co. at the west end of Midland Monday afternoon.

She was treated at Crucible Emergency Hospital and later admitted to City Hospital. She was a passenger in a car driven by her husband which hit the back of a truck Norman Lee Rombold of New Brighton R. D. 1, had pulled onto the road.

Varavette's car, partly turned, bounced into the other lane into a car owned by Aubrey C. Robinson, 425 W. Church Alley, East Liverpool, Midland police said.

About $106 damage resulted to the Robinson auto and slight damage to the other vehicles, police said.

There's No Safety In Numbers

"Multiple fatalities" have been occurring at too rapid a rate as the nation's traffic toll continues to mount.

Just the other day four persons were killed near Monroeville, Ohio, and several others were injured when a car went out of control. There were 10 people, including 7 children, jammed into the vehicle! It's no wonder something went wrong.

What happens at Monroeville and in other parts of the United States can't be controlled by East Liverpool authorities, but such type of accidents should serve as a warning signal and spur efforts to see that they don't happen here.

Section 441 of the City Code reads as follows: "No person shall drive a vehicle when it is so loaded or when there are in the front seat such a number of persons as to obstruct the view of the driver to the front or sides of the vehicle or as to interfere with the driver's control of the vehicle."

The wording points up the responsibility of both motorists and police.

Those who drive should see to it their their cars are not overcrowded. Those who police should see to it that a driver is apprehended if the city code is violated.

With another long holiday weekend coming up, it is a most fitting time to crack down. The highways will be packed during the Fourth of July period and the threat of traffic death or injury will increase proportionately.

The July 4th holiday is still far enough away for you to plan safely and not haphazardly. If going out, make sure your car contains only the number of passengers which it can handle safely.

Another "Monroeville" here would be too grim a price to pay for carelessness and disregard of the law.

Should President Go To The People?

The hot-worded and short-tempered reaction of Senate Democrats to the suggestion in a White House conference that President Eisenhower should appeal directly to the American people for support of his legislative program may have revealed something of special interest to Republican strategists.

Whether they are aware of it or not, Mr. Eisenhower already has appealed directly to the American people in a way most worrisome to the Democratic strategists. That accounts for their hot words and short tempers when they learned that he was thinking about asking the American people for support.

The Democratic strategists counted too heavily on a violent public reaction from an economic recession to carry them through to the same kind of easy sweep that put the modern Democratic party in power in 1933 and kept it there, until it ran short of political gas in the presidential election of 1952.

THEY HAD DEPENDED on the two-term limitation to take away all of President Eisenhower's political effectiveness in his second term.

They had counted on the weakness of the Republican party in the 1958 congressional election to spread to the White House and into presidential politics in 1960.

They were sure that the business recession would make their big spending program so appealing that nothing else would have any impact on the American people.

They did not see in advance that budget-balancing and a return to old-time ideas about handling public money would have political appeal in 1959.

They were so confident that their numerical majorities in the House of Representatives and the Senate would give them the whip-hand that they neglected to think about Dwight Eisenhower's popularity as the elected leader of all the people.

They thought their political assaults on certain presidential appointees would pan out in their favor.

They believed that somehow they could wreak a miracle that would heal the civil rights split in the Democratic party. They did not look ahead to the potential revival of the conservative coalition of Democratic South and GOP North that plagued both Franklin Roosevelt and Harry Truman.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER did not have to wait for any special occasion to go to the people to remind them that there still is a two-party system in the United States.

Circumstances and events have been reminding the American people that if it had not been for a two-party system and the leadership to keep it in working order they now would be utterly at the mercy of one party whose views range from those of Sen. Lyndon Johnson to those of the big-union politicians who dictate policy from behind the scenes.

Whether or not President Eisenhower should now assert his presidential leadership by appealing directly to the people for support is a question for Republican strategists to answer.

But in thinking about the answer they cannot ignore the central fact of partisan politics at the moment—that Dwight Eisenhower is a symbol of national unity whose stature has survived all partisanship to date and promises to loom larger during the rest of this year and all of 1960.

If he had been going to the country with direct appeals every 24 hours, he couldn't have done any better.

'Nothing Like It For Years And Years'

The United States Weather Bureau, mindful it may be of what could heppen to its appropriation requests, promises it will have a new name for its "discomfort index" before next summer.

Meanwhile, it will call this newly developed statistic a Temperature-Humidity Index, a title for which it holds no brief, because it doesn't mean anything.

The problem, of course, is how to reveal a day-to-day fact with direct bearing on weather's effect on people without giving direct offense to people who have climate for sale. Summer resort operators, for example, simply could not afford to have it known far and wide that the discomfort index was high, lest their paying guests throw in the wet towel and go home.

Yet, this has been a resort problem since the first vacationist went looking for Utopia in the other fellow's climatological back yard. Is there a vacationist living who has not heard a native say, "This is the worst weather I can remember—and I've lived here nigh on to 60 years"?

Or that other standard localism when a vacationist asks, "Is it always like this around here?" — and the native says, "You should have been here last month. Nicest weather we've ever had."

It doesn't matter much what the Weather Bureau finally calls it, an index to human discomfort weather-wise will be as unpopular as a proposal to publish everybody's IQ. IQ? Maybe that's an idea for the Weather Bureau. It could call its index DI. No one would know what DI meant, either.

CD Work Goes On

The Review is one of four newspapers given awards for "actively supporting" the Ohio Civil Defense program.

The honor was appreciated. Any newspaper is pleased when its efforts on behalf of a worthwhile endeavor are given proper recognition.

The "Certificate of Distinguished Service" brought to mind once more the creditable job that is being done locally and in the immediate area in various phases of Civil Defense.

CD still is regarded by many as a waste of time and those who labor on its behalf must feel occasionally that perhaps the skeptics are right. Nevertheless, they continue to prepare for any eventuality.

It is almost certain that if trouble does come, flaws will show up in the CD program. But flaws or no flaws, it's reassuring to know that there are dedicated people striving daily on behalf of those too disinterested to do anything to help themselves.

CD could become a friend in need some day.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Father's Day is Mother's Day without geraniums, bonbons and the more expensive greeting cards. It is National Embarrassment Day for the old man. He appreciates respect but the love-and-kisses mood makes him feel uncomfortable. He knows "Hurrah for Dad" is a commercial. To the cry of "You great big wonderful dad," his response is, "When you call me that, smile!" if not, "Come out to the woodshed. You can't do that to me."

Popper likes appreciation, even if he gets it only annually, but he is alert to baloney. While the kids and mother come beamingly to him with huzzahs and applause, he asks, "What can I do in self-defense?" He is accustomed to toiling, worrying, fretting and watching his arteries harden, with only minor cheering.

Sudden "Let's give him a day's reverence" attitude brings forth a baffled, "What happened!" All through Father's Day he wishes the folks would just send him the bills for the tributes and get lost.

FATHER ENDURES 364 days of being doubted, scorned, disobeyed, overlooked, brushed off and forgotten. He knows that a single day's enshrinement is nothing to make him turn handsprings. He sees in the greeting cards something like:

Here's to father,
A cheer for pop;
I think he's grand . . .
NOW LET IT DROP.

IT'S REPORTED GM will put the engine in the rear in small cars. The missus says that's where she always thought it was. Probability is that even our midget cars will be costly and we like Damon Stetson's story of the worker who looked at a sample model and exclaimed, "This economy car is just the ticket and I hope I can AFFORD it."

Eskimos are now publishing their own magazine. They have no trouble getting things into cold print.

Racing can put its worst foot forward and did so when, with Eddie Arcaro unconscious and perhaps near death in a Belmont spill, not a reference was made to him during the ceremonies of joy and triumph in winner's circle. Millions of TV watchers were shocked by the jaunty mood, to complete exclusion of a single, "Was Eddie badly hurt, and what of Black Hills?"

National spelling bee was won by a moppet who correctly spelled "fanfaronade" and "Catamaran." The amazing thing is that they are spelled exactly as they sound, they would give much trouble to the kid who had come through with "porphyry," "ephelis" and "vinaigrous."

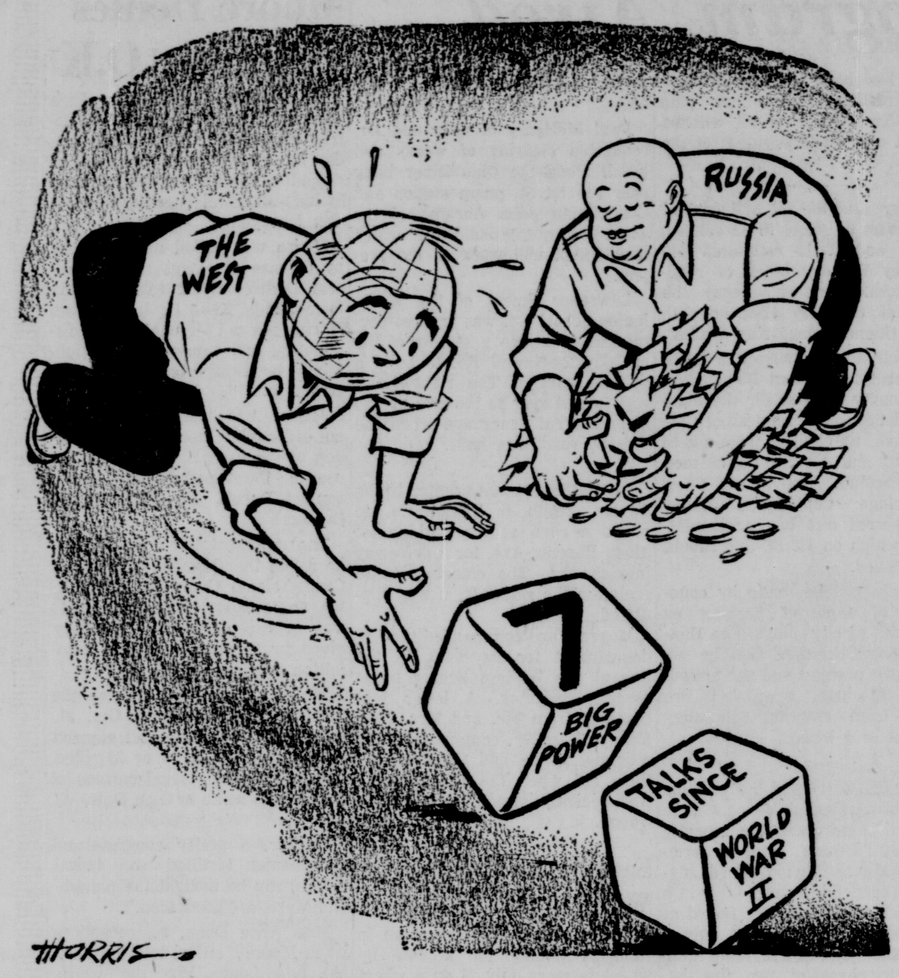
You Can't Beat Loaded Dice



Democrats Beat Path To Labor Leaders

By Victor Riesel

There were almost as many ready-to-run candidates as there were ready-to-wear buyers in this big garment town of New York these past few weeks. The presidential candidates, like the buyers, headed for the same industry. But unlike the buyers, the candidates were on the selling side — with a "soft sell" technique.

Victor Riesel

They were the Democratic hopefuls — hoping to win labor support so they can truthfully say to next year's convention delegates that they believe they will run well in New York despite the looming Republican strength of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

Most recent of the visitors was Missouri's Sen. Stuart Symington. It was 5:30 p.m. last Thursday when he walked unnoticed into a two-room suite of the quiet off-Park Ave. Hotel Tuscany.

IN THAT SUITE "for the duration" lives Washington attorney, Arthur Goldberg, counselor to the United Steelworkers of America now in marathon negotiations with the steel industry.

With lawyer Goldberg around the wheeled-in dinner table that night were Ladies Garment Workers Union leader David Dubinsky, dynamo and source of power in New York's unique Liberal party; Alex Rose, president of the Hatters Union, whose friends kid him about being the Jim Farley of American labor but who won't run second to Jim in any political chess game and Jack Potofsky, head of the influential Amalgamated Clothing Workers Union, founded by his friend, Sidney Hillman. And, of course, Stu Symington.

For two hours they talked national politics. Sen. Symington respected his hosts' political sophistication too much to do anything but talk like a candidate. He never actually said he was. But everything he said said so.

The senator from Missouri didn't have to be shown. He knew that the men with him were the political policy makers of the AFL-CIO. There would have been one other New Yorker present — George Meany — but he was on the high seas heading for London and Berlin.

Otherwise these are the men who not only make policy in the background, but who back their policy with action, political machinery and funds. This gives them considerable influence in the Democratic national convention delegations of many states.

THE LABOR MEN listened to Symington's attack on President Eisenhower and to the senator's analysis of our defense expenditures.

When they talked they spoke of their interest in other possible candidates. They talked of their wish to keep the pro-labor liberal coalition intact inside the Democratic party.

They urged Symington, as they had urged Sen. Hubert Humphrey and Sen. John Kennedy, not to tear at other candidates and rip the party as the Adlai Stevenson-Estes Kefauver feud did in '56.

Exactly 24 hours before this private dinner, most of these labor leaders sat in the Hotel Commodore with Sen. Humphrey. He was the guest speaker at the Liberal party banquet and they went for a drink — soft, of course — later.

To Humphrey, too, they intoned against ripping primary fights in Wisconsin or Oregon with alarums and attacks by the candidates against each other. Humphrey agreed.

He reported that he had talked with his good friend Symington and with Kennedy. And that they pledged not to smear each other in their drive for the presidential nomination.

SOME DAYS EARLIER, Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson spent a day in town. Whom he saw, I do not know.

But here and there in labor circles you catch references — respectful ones — to the Texan with the towering influence. So there must have been political discussions.

Before Johnson's stay, Sen. Kennedy was in town. He spoke to Mr. Rose's national convention — which whooped it up for him. Of these men, it is Jack Kennedy who is talked of as the favorite.

But of all the Democratic hopefuls, the one man who has not come to dinner is Adlai Stevenson. The labor people do not believe he can win. So they are not interested.

Inside the party, that would appear to end his chances, for, inside the party, this group of labor men are among the big chance makers.

Who's Puzzled Now?

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Bouncy Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev may have had President Eisenhower guessing what's on his mind. Now Eisenhower probably has Khrushchev a little puzzled, too.

That's because Eisenhower seemed to be agreeing with the Russian on one point, but not quite, and softening Wednesday what he said two weeks ago but, as it turned out, not quite.

It all started months ago when Khrushchev made a threat: either the Allies get their troops out of Berlin or he would turn over to the East German Communists control of the ground, air, and rail routes leading to Berlin.

This would put the Allies in a pickel. They refuse to recognize the German Reds as the lawful government of East Germany. But if the Communists shut off their supplies to East Berlin, they'd have to deal with them or fight.

And dealing with them would be a form of recognition. At the same time Khrushchev called on Eisenhower to meet him at a summit conference where all kinds of things could be discussed. That would include Berlin.

Eisenhower said nothing doing unless, first, the Soviet and Western foreign ministers met and, second, they showed some progress.

Khrushchev reluctantly agreed to the foreign ministers' meeting but low-rated its importance. He argued only the top men make decisions. Therefore, the ministers are errand boys. So, he claimed, a foreign ministers' meeting just wastes time.

The ministers met and made no progress. At his June 3 news conference, Eisenhower seemed to agree with Khrushchev that the ministers are only transmission belts for the top men.

"These foreign ministers are, after all, acting for someone else . . . and these matters (such as Berlin) have to be brought back and studied carefully," Eisenhower said.

But he seemed to attach much more importance to the ministers at his news conference Wednesday. He said they are "people who go to conferences clothed with a great deal of authority."

Next he appeared to be leaning a bit toward Khrushchev's view. He pointed out the ministers, every night after their day's session at Geneva, have to communicate with their governments back home.

He said they provide "the mechanism . . . through which (agreements) are supposed to be obtained."

But then he parted company with Khrushchev, if he ever was in his company, by refusing to agree to any assumption the ministers' meetings are useless. He implied that unless they prepared the ground for a summit meeting, there was no sense in holding one.

But it was on another point — Berlin itself —that Eisenhower may have left Khrushchev scratching his head.

At his June 3 news conference Eisenhower emphasized that the Russians had created the Berlin crisis and then called for a summit meeting to settle it.

Before there is a summit meeting, Eisenhower continued, the Russians should agree the Allies can stay in Berlin until the whole problem of German unification is settled. In effect, since it won't be settled for a long time, this meant indefinitely.

He didn't flatly say this had to be done before he'd go to a summit meeting.

Asked if this is what he meant, he said: "I don't see how the head of any self-respecting government can go to an international conference in response to any kind of thing that can be called a threat."

He meant the Soviet threat to the West: Get out of Berlin, or we let the East Germans take over.

At his news conference Eisenhower was reminded of that June 3 statement. He was asked if Soviet failure to withdraw its threat about Berlin meant he could not go to a summit meeting on other things.

Eisenhower's reply seemed to imply he was softening his position about agreement on Berlin being a precondition to a summit meeting. He said he had just tied in his June 3 statement about Berlin as an example of progress.

He added: "If there is any kind of reasonable progress that justifies a summit meeting, why of course I would never decline the opportunity to go."

But after the news conference Eisenhower's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, talked with reporters.

"Even though the President didn't specifically repeat that (June 3) statement, that is still just where he stands," Hagerty said. "He won't go to any summit conference under any threat regarding Berlin."

Alternative To War

By David Lawrence

West Lacks 'Cold War' Planning Effort

If the Soviets will not make any international agreements to ease tension in the world and since nobody wants a war over West Berlin or anything else, what is the alternative policy that can be pursued by the West?

David Lawrence

This question is often asked but rarely answered. One reason is that the Western governments have never agreed among themselves as to what they can do when the Soviets become intransigent and domineering.

The only alternative policy really available to the Allies today is to press the "cold war" on every front. This is the kind of pressure that the Soviets would understand, because it could throw a monkey wrench into their own domestic situation.

Due to the indifference of the Western allies toward what has been going on inside Russia, the Kremlin has had relatively little to worry about from the outside.

But there are some serious weaknesses in the position of the Soviet government with respect to its own people. For one thing, an enormous amount of money is being spent outside the Soviet Union for political purposes. This is not benefiting the Soviet people.

THE FUNDS are being taken from the Soviet people, whose lot would be immeasurably improved if some of the money expended in Latin America, the Middle East and Asia to stir up trouble in those areas could be used instead to help improve the standard of living inside the Soviet Union.

There are, moreover, some underdeveloped areas within the Soviet domain where poverty is extensive. When will the Allies begin talking to the Soviet people about the huge expense of the "cold war" that is being incurred by the rulers in the Kremlin in their quest for power and world domination?

Also, the Western allies have been timid about expressing themselves concerning the dangers of a nuclear war brought on by Soviet miscalculation. The Soviets have managed by their propaganda to make it appear that they themselves are pacifically inclined, while the West is eager for war.

The Soviet people need to be told that the Khrushchev policies have increased tension and that the Geneva Conference is a conspicuous example of how futile it is to try to reason with a dictatorship.

The Soviet people could be given to understand that peace will come in the world when they, too, have a free government.

For some strange reason, the utterances of the West that need to be broadcast widely behind the Iron Curtain are seldom made. When statements are made on broad policy, they unwittingly give an impression of timidity and fear. There are many vital issues to be discussed but most of the broadcasting by the West is confined to routine news.

THERE IS NO STEADY outpouring of statements from the Western governments addressed to the Soviet people.

Yet the main alternative to war is to arouse the millions of persons behind the Iron Curtain to the fact that their own government is a disturber of world peace and is blocking their own progress through wasteful expenditures throughout the world.

America has the capacity to express itself in world affairs but up to now the policy of restraint and super-caution has been self-defeating. The Soviets have their own way in the propaganda field. Certainly, the all-important objective — to reach the Soviet people and urge them to choose leaders who will cooperate with other nations—is relatively simple to explain, day in and day out.

This approach often has been described as using "moral force." But the phrase has come to be associated too much with the mere preachment of ideals. It is, in fact, the use of the force of public opinion. It means the constant communication of ideas across boundaries. Too often this formula is dismissed as useless because it is assumed that a revolution inside the Soviet Union is impossible, just because no outward signs of any such trend have been apparent. But such signs are seldom visible to the naked eye.

SOUNDINGS that are made behind the Iron Curtain and reports from escaping refugees tell the story of a people unhappy, dissatisfied and aware to a larger extent than is generally imagined that the Communist government is not making friends but enemies throughout the world.

There are plenty of things to do about the deadlock with the Soviet government besides a direct appeal to the Soviet people but the first step that has to be taken is to get an agreed-upon policy by the Western allies themselves to press the cold war on every front.

Too many appeasers in the West have not yet been convinced that talk at high levels is useless.

Too many in the Western governments think there has to be a few more insults flung by the Moscow government before the "air will be cleared." What they don't realize, perhaps, is that the pollution has increased, because the West itself has been reluctant to use its own power to send the fresh air of freedom's cause into the Soviet Union itself.

Unions And Democrats

By Raymond Moley

In the reports of expenditures by all political groups to the clerk of the House of Representatives there is clear evidence of the growing, perhaps dominant, influence of the labor organizations in the Democratic party in a congressional election.

The Congressional Quarterly well illustrates this in a graph showing that labor groups in 1958 spent $1,800,000 while Democratic groups spent $1,700,000. At the same time and for the same election, official Republican groups spent $4,600,000 while Republican auxiliaries spent an inconsequential fraction of that amount.

The figures themselves are not important, because the amounts mentioned represent only a fraction of what was spent. The amount of labor - union expenditures, however, compared with that of official Democratic groups, is notable. It shows clearly the extent to which there is a Democratic-Labor party. This alliance must be recognized in all political calculations from her on.

IT MUST BE remembered, so far as the amounts reported are concerned, that the unions' contribution was vastly more than $1,800,000. These reported expenditures are inclusive only of what was directly spent in support of candidates for federal offices —i.e., members of Congress.

They do not include what was spent in many states for the election of state and local officers, especially for candidates for state legislatures.

They do not include expenditures to defeat right-to-work proposals in half a dozen states. These were state issues. Nor do they cover the vast mobilization of man and woman power in political work, perhaps the most decisive force in the election.

Finally, expenditures made directly for candidates for federal offices cover only what the donors are pleased to term "political." They have nothing to do with the immense sums spent for "education," for the publication of newspapers and for radio and television.

In Ohio, where right-to-work was on the ballot, according to my information at least three million dollars was openly spent and if all the other efforts including the work of union officers and members were evaluated, the sum would be at least six million dollars. That is more than either of the major parties reported for the whole nation.

In Ohio there is no doubt that business and industry groups spent a very considerable amount in addition to that reported by the Republican party. This was for the right-to-work proposal. That so little in the form of votes resulted is because the labor-union groups spent their money more effectively and because they had more precinct workers in the field.

ALL THE FOREGOING proves that federal laws requiring reports on expenditures produce unrealistic pictures of what goes on in a campaign, since political power is measured by the manpower and womanpower which carries on the hard local activities, such as getting sympathetic voters to register and vote. Also, Republican reliance on a large war chest is based upon a delusion. Money — some money — is needed in campaigns even for the most minor offices. But efficient organization is productive of votes. And the vote is the ultimate source of power.

A much more important lesson is that until the courts, or Congress, or someone is able to define what is political and what is educational or some other name, no legislation can provide the public with an accurate portrayal of what happens in an election.

Meanwhile, it will call this newly developed statistic a Temperature-Humidity Index, a title for which it holds no brief, because it doesn't mean anything.

The problem, of course, is how to reveal a day-to-day fact with direct bearing on weather's effect on people without giving direct offense to people who have climate for sale. Summer resort operators, for example, simply could not afford to have it known far and wide that the discomfort index was high, lest their paying guests throw in the wet towel and go home.

Yet, this has been a resort problem since the first vacationist went looking for Utopia in the other fellow's climatological back yard. Is there a vacationist living who has not heard a native say, "This is the worst weather I can remember—and I've lived here nigh on to 60 years"?

Or that other standard localism when a vacationist asks, "Is it always like this around here?" — and the native says, "You should have been here last month. Nicest weather we've ever had."

It doesn't matter much what the Weather Bureau finally calls it, an index to human discomfort weather-wise will be as unpopular as a proposal to publish everybody's IQ. IQ? Maybe that's an idea for the Weather Bureau. It could call its index DI. No one would know what DI meant, either.

CD Work Goes On

The Review is one of four newspapers given awards for "actively supporting" the Ohio Civil Defense program.

The honor was appreciated. Any newspaper is pleased when its efforts on behalf of a worthwhile endeavor are given proper recognition.

The "Certificate of Distinguished Service" brought to mind once more the creditable job that is being done locally and in the immediate area in various phases of Civil Defense.

CD still is regarded by many as a waste of time and those who labor on its behalf must feel occasionally that perhaps the skeptics are right. Nevertheless, they continue to prepare for any eventuality.

It is almost certain that if trouble does come, flaws will show up in the CD program. But flaws or no flaws, it's reassuring to know that there are dedicated people striving daily on behalf of those too disinterested to do anything to help themselves.

CD could become a friend in need some day.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Father's Day is Mother's Day without geraniums, bonbons and the more expensive greeting cards. It is National Embarrassment Day for the old man. He appreciates respect but the love-and-kisses mood makes him feel uncomfortable. He knows "Hurrah for Dad" is a commercial. To the cry of "You great big wonderful dad," his response is, "When you call me that, smile!" if not, "Come out to the woodshed. You can't do that to me."

Popper likes appreciation, even if he gets it only annually, but he is alert to baloney. While the kids and mother come beamingly to him with huzzahs and applause, he asks, "What can I do in self-defense?" He is accustomed to toiling, worrying, fretting and watching his arteries harden, with only minor cheering.

Sudden "Let's give him a day's reverence" attitude brings forth a baffled, "What happened!" All through Father's Day he wishes the folks would just send him the bills for the tributes and get lost.

FATHER ENDURES 364 days of being doubted, scorned, disobeyed, overlooked, brushed off and forgotten. He knows that a single day's enshrinement is nothing to make him turn handsprings. He sees in the greeting cards something like:

Here's to father,
A cheer for pop;
I think he's grand . . .
NOW LET IT DROP.

IT'S REPORTED GM will put the engine in the rear in small cars. The missus says that's where she always thought it was. Probability is that even our midget cars will be costly and we like Damon Stetson's story of the worker who looked at a sample model and exclaimed, "This economy car is just the ticket and I hope I can AFFORD it."

Eskimos are now publishing their own magazine. They have no trouble getting things into cold print.

Racing can put its worst foot forward and did so when, with Eddie Arcaro unconscious and perhaps near death in a Belmont spill, not a reference was made to him during the ceremonies of joy and triumph in winner's circle. Millions of TV watchers were shocked by the jaunty mood, to complete exclusion of a single, "Was Eddie badly hurt, and what of Black Hills?"

National spelling bee was won by a moppet who correctly spelled "fanfaronade" and "Catamaran." The amazing thing is that they are spelled exactly as they sound, they would give much trouble to the kid who had come through with "porphyry," "ephelis" and "vinaigrous."

You Can't Beat Loaded Dice

By Victor Riesel

There were almost as many ready-to-run candidates as there were ready-to-wear buyers in this big garment town of New York these past few weeks. The presidential candidates, like the buyers, headed for the same industry. But unlike the buyers, the candidates were on the selling side — with a "soft sell" technique.

Victor Riesel

They were the Democratic hopefuls — hoping to win labor support so they can truthfully say to next year's convention delegates that they believe they will run well in New York despite the looming Republican strength of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

Most recent of the visitors was Missouri's Sen. Stuart Symington. It was 5:30 p.m. last Thursday when he walked unnoticed into a two-room suite of the quiet off-Park Ave. Hotel Tuscany.

IN THAT SUITE "for the duration" lives Washington attorney, Arthur Goldberg, counselor to the United Steelworkers of America now in marathon negotiations with the steel industry.

With lawyer Goldberg around the wheeled-in dinner table that night were Ladies Garment Workers Union leader David Dubinsky, dynamo and source of power in New York's unique Liberal party; Alex Rose, president of the Hatters Union, whose friends kid him about being the Jim Farley of American labor but who won't run second to Jim in any political chess game and Jack Potofsky, head of the influential Amalgamated Clothing Workers Union, founded by his friend, Sidney Hillman. And, of course, Stu Symington.

For two hours they talked national politics. Sen. Symington respected his hosts' political sophistication too much to do anything but talk like a candidate. He never actually said he was. But everything he said said so.

The senator from Missouri didn't have to be shown. He knew that the men with him were the political policy makers of the AFL-CIO. There would have been one other New Yorker present — George Meany — but he was on the high seas heading for London and Berlin.

Otherwise these are the men who not only make policy in the background, but who back their policy with action, political machinery and funds. This gives them considerable influence in the Democratic national convention delegations of many states.

THE LABOR MEN listened to Symington's attack on President Eisenhower and to the senator's analysis of our defense expenditures.

When they talked they spoke of their interest in other possible candidates. They talked of their wish to keep the pro-labor liberal coalition intact inside the Democratic party.

They urged Symington, as they had urged Sen. Hubert Humphrey and Sen. John Kennedy, not to tear at other candidates and rip the party as the Adlai Stevenson-Estes Kefauver feud did in '56.

Exactly 24 hours before this private dinner, most of these labor leaders sat in the Hotel Commodore with Sen. Humphrey. He was the guest speaker at the Liberal party banquet and they went for a drink — soft, of course — later.

To Humphrey, too, they intoned against ripping primary fights in Wisconsin or Oregon with alarums and attacks by the candidates against each other. Humphrey agreed.

He reported that he had talked with his good friend Symington and with Kennedy. And that they pledged not to smear each other in their drive for the presidential nomination.

SOME DAYS EARLIER, Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson spent a day in town. Whom he saw, I do not know.

But here and there in labor circles you catch references — respectful ones — to the Texan with the towering influence. So there must have been political discussions.

Before Johnson's stay, Sen. Kennedy was in town. He spoke to Mr. Rose's national convention — which whooped it up for him. Of these men, it is Jack Kennedy who is talked of as the favorite.

But of all the Democratic hopefuls, the one man who has not come to dinner is Adlai Stevenson. The labor people do not believe he can win. So they are not interested.

Inside the party, that would appear to end his chances, for, inside the party, this group of labor men are among the big chance makers.

Who's Puzzled Now?

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Bouncy Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev may have had President Eisenhower guessing what's on his mind. Now Eisenhower probably has Khrushchev a little puzzled, too.

That's because Eisenhower seemed to be agreeing with the Russian on one point, but not quite, and softening Wednesday what he said two weeks ago but, as it turned out, not quite.

It all started months ago when Khrushchev made a threat: either the Allies get their troops out of Berlin or he would turn over to the East German Communists control of the ground, air, and rail routes leading to Berlin.

This would put the Allies in a pickel. They refuse to recognize the German Reds as the lawful government of East Germany. But if the Communists shut off their supplies to East Berlin, they'd have to deal with them or fight.

And dealing with them would be a form of recognition. At the same time Khrushchev called on Eisenhower to meet him at a summit conference where all kinds of things could be discussed. That would include Berlin.

Eisenhower said nothing doing unless, first, the Soviet and Western foreign ministers met and, second, they showed some progress.

Khrushchev reluctantly agreed to the foreign ministers' meeting but low-rated its importance. He argued only the top men make decisions. Therefore, the ministers are errand boys. So, he claimed, a foreign ministers' meeting just wastes time.

The ministers met and made no progress. At his June 3 news conference, Eisenhower seemed to agree with Khrushchev that the ministers are only transmission belts for the top men.

"These foreign ministers are, after all, acting for someone else . . . and these matters (such as Berlin) have to be brought back and studied carefully," Eisenhower said.

But he seemed to attach much more importance to the ministers at his news conference Wednesday. He said they are "people who go to conferences clothed with a great deal of authority."

Next he appeared to be leaning a bit toward Khrushchev's view. He pointed out the ministers, every night after their day's session at Geneva, have to communicate with their governments back home.

He said they provide "the mechanism . . . through which (agreements) are supposed to be obtained."

But then he parted company with Khrushchev, if he ever was in his company, by refusing to agree to any assumption the ministers' meetings are useless. He implied that unless they prepared the ground for a summit meeting, there was no sense in holding one.

But it was on another point — Berlin itself —that Eisenhower may have left Khrushchev scratching his head.

At his June 3 news conference Eisenhower emphasized that the Russians had created the Berlin crisis and then called for a summit meeting to settle it.

Before there is a summit meeting, Eisenhower continued, the Russians should agree the Allies can stay in Berlin until the whole problem of German unification is settled. In effect, since it won't be settled for a long time, this meant indefinitely.

He didn't flatly say this had to be done before he'd go to a summit meeting.

Asked if this is what he meant, he said: "I don't see how the head of any self-respecting government can go to an international conference in response to any kind of thing that can be called a threat."

He meant the Soviet threat to the West: Get out of Berlin, or we let the East Germans take over.

At his news conference Eisenhower was reminded of that June 3 statement. He was asked if Soviet failure to withdraw its threat about Berlin meant he could not go to a summit meeting on other things.

Eisenhower's reply seemed to imply he was softening his position about agreement on Berlin being a precondition to a summit meeting. He said he had just tied in his June 3 statement about Berlin as an example of progress.

He added: "If there is any kind of reasonable progress that justifies a summit meeting, why of course I would never decline the opportunity to go."

But after the news conference Eisenhower's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, talked with reporters.

"Even though the President didn't specifically repeat that (June 3) statement, that is still just where he stands," Hagerty said. "He won't go to any summit conference under any threat regarding Berlin."

Alternative To War

By David Lawrence

West Lacks 'Cold War' Planning Effort

If the Soviets will not make any international agreements to ease tension in the world and since nobody wants a war over West Berlin or anything else, what is the alternative policy that can be pursued by the West?

David Lawrence

This question is often asked but rarely answered. One reason is that the Western governments have never agreed among themselves as to what they can do when the Soviets become intransigent and domineering.

The only alternative policy really available to the Allies today is to press the "cold war" on every front. This is the kind of pressure that the Soviets would understand, because it could throw a monkey wrench into their own domestic situation.

Due to the indifference of the Western allies toward what has been going on inside Russia, the Kremlin has had relatively little to worry about from the outside.

But there are some serious weaknesses in the position of the Soviet government with respect to its own people. For one thing, an enormous amount of money is being spent outside the Soviet Union for political purposes. This is not benefiting the Soviet people.

THE FUNDS are being taken from the Soviet people, whose lot would be immeasurably improved if some of the money expended in Latin America, the Middle East and Asia to stir up trouble in those areas could be used instead to help improve the standard of living inside the Soviet Union.

There are, moreover, some underdeveloped areas within the Soviet domain where poverty is extensive. When will the Allies begin talking to the Soviet people about the huge expense of the "cold war" that is being incurred by the rulers in the Kremlin in their quest for power and world domination?

Also, the Western allies have been timid about expressing themselves concerning the dangers of a nuclear war brought on by Soviet miscalculation. The Soviets have managed by their propaganda to make it appear that they themselves are pacifically inclined, while the West is eager for war.

The Soviet people need to be told that the Khrushchev policies have increased tension and that the Geneva Conference is a conspicuous example of how futile it is to try to reason with a dictatorship.

The Soviet people could be given to understand that peace will come in the world when they, too, have a free government.

For some strange reason, the utterances of the West that need to be broadcast widely behind the Iron Curtain are seldom made. When statements are made on broad policy, they unwittingly give an impression of timidity and fear. There are many vital issues to be discussed but most of the broadcasting by the West is confined to routine news.

THERE IS NO STEADY outpouring of statements from the Western governments addressed to the Soviet people.

Yet the main alternative to war is to arouse the millions of persons behind the Iron Curtain to the fact that their own government is a disturber of world peace and is blocking their own progress through wasteful expenditures throughout the world.

America has the capacity to express itself in world affairs but up to now the policy of restraint and super-caution has been self-defeating. The Soviets have their own way in the propaganda field. Certainly, the all-important objective — to reach the Soviet people and urge them to choose leaders who will cooperate with other nations—is relatively simple to explain, day in and day out.

This approach often has been described as using "moral force." But the phrase has come to be associated too much with the mere preachment of ideals. It is, in fact, the use of the force of public opinion. It means the constant communication of ideas across boundaries. Too often this formula is dismissed as useless because it is assumed that a revolution inside the Soviet Union is impossible, just because no outward signs of any such trend have been apparent. But such signs are seldom visible to the naked eye.

SOUNDINGS that are made behind the Iron Curtain and reports from escaping refugees tell the story of a people unhappy, dissatisfied and aware to a larger extent than is generally imagined that the Communist government is not making friends but enemies throughout the world.

There are plenty of things to do about the deadlock with the Soviet government besides a direct appeal to the Soviet people but the first step that has to be taken is to get an agreed-upon policy by the Western allies themselves to press the cold war on every front.

Too many appeasers in the West have not yet been convinced that talk at high levels is useless.

Too many in the Western governments think there has to be a few more insults flung by the Moscow government before the "air will be cleared." What they don't realize, perhaps, is that the pollution has increased, because the West itself has been reluctant to use its own power to send the fresh air of freedom's cause into the Soviet Union itself.

Unions And Democrats

By Raymond Moley

In the reports of expenditures by all political groups to the clerk of the House of Representatives there is clear evidence of the growing, perhaps dominant, influence of the labor organizations in the Democratic party in a congressional election.

The Congressional Quarterly well illustrates this in a graph showing that labor groups in 1958 spent $1,800,000 while Democratic groups spent $1,700,000. At the same time and for the same election, official Republican groups spent $4,600,000 while Republican auxiliaries spent an inconsequential fraction of that amount.

The figures themselves are not important, because the amounts mentioned represent only a fraction of what was spent. The amount of labor - union expenditures, however, compared with that of official Democratic groups, is notable. It shows clearly the extent to which there is a Democratic-Labor party. This alliance must be recognized in all political calculations from her on.

IT MUST BE remembered, so far as the amounts reported are concerned, that the unions' contribution was vastly more than $1,800,000. These reported expenditures are inclusive only of what was directly spent in support of candidates for federal offices —i.e., members of Congress.

They do not include what was spent in many states for the election of state and local officers, especially for candidates for state legislatures.

They do not include expenditures to defeat right-to-work proposals in half a dozen states. These were state issues. Nor do they cover the vast mobilization of man and woman power in political work, perhaps the most decisive force in the election.

Finally, expenditures made directly for candidates for federal offices cover only what the donors are pleased to term "political." They have nothing to do with the immense sums spent for "education," for the publication of newspapers and for radio and television.

In Ohio, where right-to-work was on the ballot, according to my information at least three million dollars was openly spent and if all the other efforts including the work of union officers and members were evaluated, the sum would be at least six million dollars. That is more than either of the major parties reported for the whole nation.

In Ohio there is no doubt that business and industry groups spent a very considerable amount in addition to that reported by the Republican party. This was for the right-to-work proposal. That so little in the form of votes resulted is because the labor-union groups spent their money more effectively and because they had more precinct workers in the field.

ALL THE FOREGOING proves that federal laws requiring reports on expenditures produce unrealistic pictures of what goes on in a campaign, since political power is measured by the manpower and womanpower which carries on the hard local activities, such as getting sympathetic voters to register and vote. Also, Republican reliance on a large war chest is based upon a delusion. Money — some money — is needed in campaigns even for the most minor offices. But efficient organization is productive of votes. And the vote is the ultimate source of power.

A much more important lesson is that until the courts, or Congress, or someone is able to define what is political and what is educational or some other name, no legislation can provide the public with an accurate portrayal of what happens in an election.

Senate Completes Action

Ohio Bans Motor Scooter Licenses For Youths 14-15

By ART PARKS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — In about three months, Ohio youngsters who do not already have licenses to operate motor scooters will be out of luck, at least until they reach the age of 16.

Those who have their licenses, even though they are only 14 or 15, are lucky. Those licenses will continue in effect.

The Ohio Senate, after two hours of hot and heavy debate which changed nobody's mind, passed 21-12 a House-approved bill Wednesday to prohibit future licenses for youngsters 14 and 15.

The law permitting boys and girls under 16 to get motor scooter licenses was passed only two years ago. Even its 1957 sponsor supported the repealer and charged:

"The intent was that the registrar of motor vehicles must satisfy himself that the granting of a license would not be inimical to the public safety. But the registrar has ignored the law and has granted licenses to anyone who applied. He set out to prove the law unworkable, and he has succeeded."

The sponsor of the 1957 law was Sen. Fred L. Hoffman (R-Hamilton), saluted Wednesday by Senate members on his 50th birthday.

In other major actions Wednesday:

The House, after long debate, passed and sent to the Senate a bill authorizing college scholarships for outstanding Ohio students who cannot afford to continue their education. The vote was 114-10.

The Senate completed legislative action on bills to:

Limit the work week of municipal firemen to 56 hours and 96 hours in any 12-day period. The Senate defeated an amendment by Sen. Ross Pepple (R-Allen) to appropriate 3½ million dollars of state money to defray the extra cost to local governments of the shorter work week, a decrease from the present maximum of 72 hours.

Place the Pardon and Parole Commission in the Division of Correction, increase the number of members from three to five, increase members' salaries from $8,400 to $12,000 a year and require that members devote full time to the job.

The House approved a Senate-adopted proposal calling for a study of the problem faced by Ohioans over 40 in obtaining jobs.

Because the House and Senate continue to disagree over a bill to require school children to be inoculated against polio and other childhood diseases, the two houses appointed a new joint conference committee.

The House completed action on a Senate-approved bill to legalize use of a new, minature, half-price voting machine invented by Martin Coyle, Butler County Republican chairman.

The House passed and sent to the Senate bills to:

Permit appeals from Liquor Board decisions in the Common Pleas Court of the county in which the cases arise.

Make permanent a temporary state tax on utility companies to finance poor relief spending.

The Senate Commerce and Labor Committee, meanwhile, recommended Senate passage of a bill by Sen. Anthony O. Calabrese (D-Cuyahoga) which would wipe so-called Sunday blue laws off Ohio law books.

The general appropriations bill now pending in the Senate carries a half-million-dollar allocation as the state's one-third share of money to augment expected contributions to a scholarship funds by individuals, organizations and other sources.

Scholarship amounts for one year, with provision for renewal for another year, would be determined by a nine-member board of trustees named by the governor with Senate consent. The bill would require two board members representing higher education and one representing secondary school with qualifications for the other six not specified.

Besides her mother, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Lois Apple of East Palestine; a son, Kenneth Baker of Leetonia; a sister, Mrs. Mildred Chamberlain of Columbiana, and three grandchildren.

Hit By Turning Auto, Pedestrian, 63, Hurt

A 63-year-old woman pedestrian suffered contusions of the left leg and abrasions of the left wrist when struck by a turning auto Wednesday night about 9:30 as she walked across the intersection of 4th and Market Sts., police said.

Mrs. Helen Menough, 308 Market St., was released after treatment at City Hospital. Police said she was bumped to the pavement by a 1948 auto driven by Charles Duncan of Park Pl.

Duncan told police he was making a left turn off Market onto 4th St. and did not see the pedestrian.

One of three autos were damaged extensively in a crash on Harvey Ave. Wednesday at 4:48 p. m., blamed on brake failure, officers said.

Brakes failed on a 1958 auto driven by Dan H. Kelly, 27, of 909 Vine St., causing it to hit the rear of a halted 1955 two-door driven by Lamphier Burton Jr., 32, of 1512 Maine Blvd., and driving Burton's car forward into the rear of another halted auto operated by Robert Chisler, 35, of 502 Harker Ave., Newell, police said.

There was extensive damage to the front of Kelly's car, officers said. The grill, hood, tail light and back bumper of Burton's auto were damaged, but Chisler's auto was unscathed, officers said.

Kelly told police he was traveling west about 20 miles an hour when he attempted to halt for the two stopped cars, but his brakes failed. Patrolman Jack Strobel reported his investigation confirmed the brake failure.

A Common Pleas Court jury Wednesday convicted him of abduction, rape, robbery and operating the woman's car without her consent. Judge John J. Mahon withheld sentencing pending an examination of Robinson by a county psychiatrist.

Senate Completes Action

Ohio Bans Motor Scooter Licenses For Youths 14-15

By ART PARKS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — In about three months, Ohio youngsters who do not already have licenses to operate motor scooters will be out of luck, at least until they reach the age of 16.

Those who have their licenses, even though they are only 14 or 15, are lucky. Those licenses will continue in effect.

The Ohio Senate, after two hours of hot and heavy debate which changed nobody's mind, passed 21-12 a House-approved bill Wednesday to prohibit future licenses for youngsters 14 and 15.

The law permitting boys and girls under 16 to get motor scooter licenses was passed only two years ago. Even its 1957 sponsor supported the repealer and charged:

"The intent was that the registrar of motor vehicles must satisfy himself that the granting of a license would not be inimical to the public safety. But the registrar has ignored the law and has granted licenses to anyone who applied. He set out to prove the law unworkable, and he has succeeded."

The sponsor of the 1957 law was Sen. Fred L. Hoffman (R-Hamilton), saluted Wednesday by Senate members on his 50th birthday.

In other major actions Wednesday:

The House, after long debate, passed and sent to the Senate a bill authorizing college scholarships for outstanding Ohio students who cannot afford to continue their education. The vote was 114-10.

The Senate completed legislative action on bills to:

Limit the work week of municipal firemen to 56 hours and 96 hours in any 12-day period. The Senate defeated an amendment by Sen. Ross Pepple (R-Allen) to appropriate 3½ million dollars of state money to defray the extra cost to local governments of the shorter work week, a decrease from the present maximum of 72 hours.

Place the Pardon and Parole Commission in the Division of Correction, increase the number of members from three to five, increase members' salaries from $8,400 to $12,000 a year and require that members devote full time to the job.

The House approved a Senate-adopted proposal calling for a study of the problem faced by Ohioans over 40 in obtaining jobs.

Because the House and Senate continue to disagree over a bill to require school children to be inoculated against polio and other childhood diseases, the two houses appointed a new joint conference committee.

The House completed action on a Senate-approved bill to legalize use of a new, minature, half-price voting machine invented by Martin Coyle, Butler County Republican chairman.

The House passed and sent to the Senate bills to:

Permit appeals from Liquor Board decisions in the Common Pleas Court of the county in which the cases arise.

Make permanent a temporary state tax on utility companies to finance poor relief spending.

The Senate Commerce and Labor Committee, meanwhile, recommended Senate passage of a bill by Sen. Anthony O. Calabrese (D-Cuyahoga) which would wipe so-called Sunday blue laws off Ohio law books.

The general appropriations bill now pending in the Senate carries a half-million-dollar allocation as the state's one-third share of money to augment expected contributions to a scholarship funds by individuals, organizations and other sources.

Scholarship amounts for one year, with provision for renewal for another year, would be determined by a nine-member board of trustees named by the governor with Senate consent. The bill would require two board members representing higher education and one representing secondary school with qualifications for the other six not specified.

COLUMBIANA — Mrs. Lorrain Baker, whose husband, James Lloyd Baker, was killed in a traffic crash Sunday near Warren, died this morning at 3:30 from injuries received in the accident. She was 56.

She was married March 12, 1921. She was a member of the Leetonia Methodist Church.

Besides her mother, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Lois Apple of East Palestine; a son, Kenneth Baker of Leetonia; a sister, Mrs. Mildred Chamberlain of Columbiana, and three grandchildren.

The double services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. at the Warrick Funeral Home by the Rev. Robert Ferguson. Burial will be in Kembles Cemetery near Rogers.

Friends may call at the funeral home Friday night.

Hit By Turning Auto, Pedestrian, 63, Hurt

A 63-year-old woman pedestrian suffered contusions of the left leg and abrasions of the left wrist when struck by a turning auto Wednesday night about 9:30 as she walked across the intersection of 4th and Market Sts., police said.

Mrs. Helen Menough, 308 Market St., was released after treatment at City Hospital. Police said she was bumped to the pavement by a 1948 auto driven by Charles Duncan of Park Pl.

Duncan told police he was making a left turn off Market onto 4th St. and did not see the pedestrian.

One of three autos were damaged extensively in a crash on Harvey Ave. Wednesday at 4:48 p. m., blamed on brake failure, officers said.

Brakes failed on a 1958 auto driven by Dan H. Kelly, 27, of 909 Vine St., causing it to hit the rear of a halted 1955 two-door driven by Lamphier Burton Jr., 32, of 1512 Maine Blvd., and driving Burton's car forward into the rear of another halted auto operated by Robert Chisler, 35, of 502 Harker Ave., Newell, police said.

There was extensive damage to the front of Kelly's car, officers said. The grill, hood, tail light and back bumper of Burton's auto were damaged, but Chisler's auto was unscathed, officers said.

Kelly told police he was traveling west about 20 miles an hour when he attempted to halt for the two stopped cars, but his brakes failed. Patrolman Jack Strobel reported his investigation confirmed the brake failure.

Faces 10-95 Years

CLEVELAND (AP)—Chester Lee Robinson, 23, convicted of the rape-abduction of a 39-year-old Cleveland Heights woman last March 15, faces a minimum prison term of 10 years or a maximum of 95 years. A Common Pleas Court jury Wednesday convicted him of abduction, rape, robbery and operating the woman's car without her consent. Judge John J. Mahon withheld sentencing pending an examination of Robinson by a county psychiatrist.

The new governor ran on the Nationalists ticket in an election that was pretty well divided between the two parties concerned.

Other girls elected and their parties included the following:

Nashville (Tenn.) Given Go Ahead On Integration

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Nashville (Tenn.) Board of Education today had a green light from the nation's second highest court to proceed with its plan to spread integration in the public schools over a 12-year period.

A 35-page opinion handed down by the U. S. Court of Appeals, Sixth Circuit, upheld the U. S. District Court for the middle district of Tennessee. The opinion was written by Judges Thomas F. McAllister, and Florance E. Allen, and Judge Emmett C. Choate, of Miami, Fla., sitting by assignment.

The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) had attacked the Nashville plan, terming it a circumvention of the U. S. Supreme Court's ban on school segregation.

Supporters of the plan, citing a century of school administration in Nashville, declared a sudden transition from segregation to integration would cause problems so great they would undermine or impair the educational system of the city.

The findings of the district court were sustained by the evidence," Wednesday's opinion said. "There is no claim that the Board of Education did not act in good faith. The plan (of gradual integration) is supported by practically all of the teachers in the schools. . .

"There is no evidence before us that the transfer plan is an evasive scheme for segregation. If the child is free to attend an integrated school and his parents voluntarily chose a school where only one race attends, he is not being deprived of his constitutional rights."

The lengthy ruling launched almost immediately into a tapestry of what the court termed "pertinent" background — and recited first of all what it described as a background of violence "on the part of criminal elements opposed to desegregation, who wrecked a city school by bombing and destroyed a synagogue by the same means.

Only quick and determined action by the Board of Education in seeking aid, and by constituted authorities including police and the courts in extending aid, kept the community from suffering even great effects of the "terror" in its midst, the court noted.

Prominent Man Held In Stabbing

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A prominent Euclid realtor was held in Lake County Jail without charge today in the stabbing of a Grand River man.

Lynn Hitchcock, 28, a maintenance man at a Grand River plant, is in serious condition at Lake County Memorial Hospital with wounds in the chest, stomach and on the hand.

Held is Robert S. Jameson, 62, a partner in the real estate firm of Jameson & Moeller, Inc.

Police Chief John G. Miller of Grand River said Jameson, his wife and sister-in-law were in the Richmond Valley Inn Wednesday night when Jameson protested foul language used by Hitchcock and two other men playing a pinball machine.

Jameson told Miller that he grabbed an eight - inch carving knife from a table to protect himself after Hitchcock knocked him down in an ensuing argument and that Hitchcock "ran into the knife."

Dayton Man Cleared In Murder Of Wife

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A jury has cleared James Rose Sr., accused of murdering his wife with a gun she gave him as a Christmas present.

Rose testified he was practicing a fast draw with the .22 caliber pistol when it accidentally discharged.

Do You Need Good Lawyer? Buckeye Boys State Has 'Em

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Need a good lawyer?

There's plenty to choose from at Buckeye Boys State.

In fact, the American Bar Assn. might be surprised to learn that it's the only state in the nation with one lawyer for every five citizens.

There are more than 1,000 high school youth attending the American Leigon's annual 10-day exercise in self-government, and 233 have passed the boys state bar examination.

Of course, the exams weren't as stiff as those given real lawyers.

But after all, Boys State is only an imaginary government, although you'd never know it from the way the kids conduct their affairs.

Wednesday, for instance, might well have been called Judicial Day at Boys State. A simulated hit-and-run accident case was heard simultaneously in eight municipal and common pleas courts. Juries found for the plaintiffs in five of the eight cases.

Would-be attorneys John Ankele of Newark and Joseph Thomas of Barnesville secured the top damages—$101,000—for their client.

The defendants were rounded up by the Boys State Highway Patrol, headed by Col. William P. Gibbs of Albany (Athens County).

Three of the top scorers on the bar examination were already holding judicial positions at Boys State. Perfect scores were made by James Satagata of McDonald (Trumbull County), a common pleas judge, and Tom Rohr of Fremont, a prosecuting attorney. Harold Berk of Port Clinton, a common pleas judge, had a 97.

In other developments Wednesday, Robert Minshall of Washington Court House became the first World War II veteran to head the Boys State board of trustees. He succeeds E. J. Sklenicka of Cleveland.

William Stewart of Athens was added to the board. Among those elected to various terms on the board were Merle F. Brady and Robert Koch of Van Wert; Owen Mason and Anthony Bowers, Lima; Judge Vaughn Collins, Logan; Edward Fairbanks, Warren, and Kent Lawrence, Canton.

LISBON — Two suits totaling $60,000 claiming injuries in an auto accident were filed in Common Pleas Court Wednesday by Mr. and Mrs. Michael E. Miller of Miami, Fla.

William A. Russell and William A. Russell Jr. of Columbiana were named defendants.

Miller seeks $35,000 and Mrs. Miller $25,000 as a result of the collision June 17, 1957, at the intersection of U. S. Routes 1 and 52 in South Carolina. The plaintiffs claim they were stopped for a traffic light and were struck from the rear by the defendants' car.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Readers: Get out the wet noodle. I'm in line for another 20 lashes. My editor insists on sharing the punishment as this one got past him, too. So, let's make it 10 for the editor and 10 for Yours Truly.

Somehow, I told a gal who was 17 (her boy friend was trying to pressure her into accepting an engagement ring) that the boy was TOO OLD FOR HER. He was 21. Now this is a goofy statement if ever I saw one.

My only excuse (and it's mighty feeble) is that both of us must have misread it, and thought he was 31. Our heads are bowed in double shame.

Dollar Signs Showing

Dear Ann Landers: My father, who is 58, came to live with us four years ago when Mother passed away. He adored my three children and they were crazy about him.

Five months ago he married a woman who has three sons by a former marriage. Now he gives all his time and attention to his stepchildren and none to his grandchildren. I think this is wrong because his step-children are not even blood relatives.

According to law, who is entitled to his estate in case of his death? He said his grandchildren would get everything but this was before he married this woman.

Why do some people get foolish when they get old? He had everything a person could ask for when he lived with us. Now he's got himself tangled up with raising a family in his old age. Can you answer these questions? — SAD-EYED DAUGHTER.

Dear Sad - Eyed Daughter: Don't look now, but the dollar signs are showing in those sad eyes of yours.

According to law, persons named in the will get the inheritance. If there is no will, the the laws of the state prevail. I wouldn't be a bit surprised if your father's step-children came in ahead of his grandchildren.

Your resentment suggests you're more concerned with what you GET from your father than what you can give him. If you were truly interested in HIS welfare you'd be delighted that he's making a new life for himself. After all, a man 58 isn't exactly ready for the glue factory.

Stop running your children in a popularity contest with the stepchildren. The whole thing is unbecoming and has a crass commercial ring.

At $75 A Lesson

Dear Ann Landers: Last year I became interested in a boy I will call Jimmy. We were quite serious and planned to be married. I know now it was all too fast.

Two months ago Jimmy walked out on me. We decided to remain good friends, but not sweethearts. He promised to call me occasionally and take me out for old time's sake.

I waited several days and he didn't call — so I called him. He had a hundred excuses. He said his car was broken, his mother was sick and he had no money for a date. When I told him a phone call cost only a dime he had no answer.

The problem is this: When we were going together he borrowed $75 from me. I reminded him several times that I could use the money but he ignored the hints. I didn't want to nag him for fear I'd lose him. But now that he's jilted me he's lost anyway and I'd like my $75 back.

Is there any legal way I can force him to pay this debt?— OVERDRAWN.

Dear Overdrawn: You've had $75 worth of experience. Forget about the money — AND the boy friend. Apparently you have nothing in writing (like a note) or you'd have mentioned it. If the fellow has integrity you may get your money at a later date. If he's a welcher, pressing and "reminding" won't do any good.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Readers: Get out the wet noodle. I'm in line for another 20 lashes. My editor insists on sharing the punishment as this one got past him, too. So, let's make it 10 for the editor and 10 for Yours Truly.

Somehow, I told a gal who was 17 (her boy friend was trying to pressure her into accepting an engagement ring) that the boy was TOO OLD FOR HER. He was 21. Now this is a goofy statement if ever I saw one.

My only excuse (and it's mighty feeble) is that both of us must have misread it, and thought he was 31. Our heads are bowed in double shame.

Dollar Signs Showing

Dear Ann Landers: My father, who is 58, came to live with us four years ago when Mother passed away. He adored my three children and they were crazy about him.

Five months ago he married a woman who has three sons by a former marriage. Now he gives all his time and attention to his stepchildren and none to his grandchildren. I think this is wrong because his step-children are not even blood relatives.

According to law, who is entitled to his estate in case of his death? He said his grandchildren would get everything but this was before he married this woman.

Why do some people get foolish when they get old? He had everything a person could ask for when he lived with us. Now he's got himself tangled up with raising a family in his old age. Can you answer these questions? — SAD-EYED DAUGHTER.

Dear Sad - Eyed Daughter: Don't look now, but the dollar signs are showing in those sad eyes of yours.

According to law, persons named in the will get the inheritance. If there is no will, the the laws of the state prevail. I wouldn't be a bit surprised if your father's step-children came in ahead of his grandchildren.

Your resentment suggests you're more concerned with what you GET from your father than what you can give him. If you were truly interested in HIS welfare you'd be delighted that he's making a new life for himself. After all, a man 58 isn't exactly ready for the glue factory.

Stop running your children in a popularity contest with the step-children. The whole thing is unbecoming and has a crass commercial ring.

At $75 A Lesson

Dear Ann Landers: Last year I became interested in a boy I will call Jimmy. We were quite serious and planned to be married. I know now it was all too fast.

Two months ago Jimmy walked out on me. We decided to remain good friends, but not sweethearts. He promised to call me occasionally and take me out for old time's sake.

I waited several days and he didn't call — so I called him. He had a hundred excuses. He said his car was broken, his mother was sick and he had no money for a date. When I told him a phone call cost only a dime he had no answer.

The problem is this: When we were going together he borrowed $75 from me. I reminded him several times that I could use the money but he ignored the hints. I didn't want to nag him for fear I'd lose him. But now that he's jilted me he's lost anyway and I'd like my $75 back.

Is there any legal way I can force him to pay this debt?—OVERDRAWN.

Dear Overdrawn: You've had $75 worth of experience. Forget about the money — AND the boy friend. Apparently you have nothing in writing (like a note) or you'd have mentioned it. If the fellow has integrity you may get your money at a later date. If he's a welcher, pressing and "reminding" won't do any good.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Kramer's opening statement said the increases sought would give Manufacturers a 6.75 per cent return on a rate base using trended cost for distribution facilities and net original cost for the remainder of the utility's property.

The PSC, in another Manufacturers case recently, granted rate increases designed to provide a 6.3 per cent return on a net original cost rate base.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

Fred Astaire Readies Another 'Evening'

The most famous feet in the world already have begun to tap for an October show that safely can be adjudged in advance as a four-star event. This is the only kind of show Astaire knows how to do, though his modesty doesn't allow him to attribute his perfectionism to anything but long, arduous rehearsals. His work record provides him with a good argument.

Marie Torre

Astaire gave about three months of his time to his initial television performance last October, and here he's already at work on a show that won't see the light of home screens for months.

"Like I said," remarks Astaire. "I'd be nothing without lots of rehearsal time."

THE DANCE MASTER'S second contribution to television, again a Chrysler-sponsored event on NBC, will be called "Another Evening With Fred Astaire."

For a fellow who's "still in orbit" from the acclaim that greeted the first "Evening With Fred Astaire," he's done a remarkably clear-headed job of mapping out the format of his next TV endeavor. He's even engaged his dancing partner, again Barrie Chase, the long-limbed beauty of fresh talent who was rocketed to fame overnight as a result of her stunning efforts opposite Astaire last October.

"And what I didn't have to do to get her!" exclaimed Astaire, whose request for Miss Chase's services caused a whole rearrangement of picture schedules at 20th Century-Fox.

"But it was worth the effort. Barrie's very clever. She's got lots of style. I've lined up about half a dozen possibilities for numbers we can do on the show, one of them revolving around a song I composed with words by Johnny Mercer.

"My main concern is to do a show that will have a freshness about it and won't look like the last one. It's not easy, believe me."

IT'S THIS time - consuming devotion to perfection that prevents Astaire from accepting more than one television show a year. After all, he has other interests.

On his movie agenda are a few commitments, and recently he added book writing to his preoccupations (his autobiography, "Step in Time," will be published this month). He also has nine TV Emmys on the mantlepiece to keep polished.

"It was sort of bewildering getting all those Emmys," remarked Astaire, who made an unsuccessful attempt at returning one of them—the best actor award—to the Academy of Television Arts And Sciences.

"When I heard the protests about my getting the best actor award, I wanted to do the right thing and I asked the academy to take back the award. They didn't react favorably to that. They said, 'What's the matter with you? Are you crazy? Four thousand members of the Academy voted you for the award, and you can't take this lightly'."

"Anyway," added Astaire, echoing popular sentiment about that "best actor" award, "it was a funny incident."

MAURICE EVANS, devoted to Shakespearean works, has accepted the starring role in "The Tempest," one of six 90-minute dramas to be given on "Hallmark Hall of Fame" next season. . . .

What kind of summer will it be? Our own survey reveals that two-thirds of prime evening time (between 7:30 and 10:30 p.m.) on the networks will be filled with reruns. Oh, to be away from TV, now that summer's here! . . .

Television has a booster in the national chairman of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Harry Christopher of Los Angeles, who issued a National Audience Board survey indicating that 89 per cent of the 11 million members approved the present programming for children. This is in sharp conflict with the national committee of the Parent-Teacher Assn., which is demanding reforms in TV programming for children.

Polly Bergen, unmoved by many-figured guest appearance offers, gets away from TV proposals this week when she goes to Europe, returning in August. . . .

Jack Benny was "appointed" chief justice of the "Ancient and Independent Province of Beverly Hills." At the presentation ceremonies, Benny said: "I don't deserve all these kind words, but, as a friend of mine said, I've got arthritis and I don't deserve that either."

TV Highlights

8, WJAC, Thin Man: A Bat McKidderick, who claims to be the last of the badmen, intrigues Nick and Nora.

Murder Trial To Move Into Garage Scene

CINCINNATI (AP) — Edythe Klumpp's first degree murder trial moves today, at least for a time, into a basement garage in the Hamilton County Courthouse.

It is there that defense attorney William F. Hopkins will continue his cross-examination of Dr. Frank Cleveland, Hamilton County pathologist.

It is there that Mrs. Klumpp's automobile is stored and that Hopkins declared dramatically Wednesday, "We will show exactly how Louise Bergen met her death."

Mrs. Klumpp, twice - divorced mother of four, is accused of shooting and bludgeoning Mrs. Bergen in the Klumpp automobile last Oct. 30. She is accused of burning the body at Lake Cowan in nearby Clinton County the next day after keeping it overnight in the trunk of her car.

She and William Bergen, Mrs. Bergen's estranged husband, had been living together and the state claims she wanted to marry him.

Wednesday, Hopkins suddenly broke off his cross-examination of Dr Cleveland with the assertion he could go no further without the automobile.

"I cannot say at this time why it is so important that we have certain demonstrations to make," Hopkins said.

He agreed to go to the garage if it was not feasible to move the car's body into the courtroom. That was left up to him and he finally decided upon the garage session.

From attorneys' statements and testimony thus far, the dispute over the death of Mrs. Bergen apparently is this:

The state contends Mrs. Bergen was shot and bludgeoned to death and then burned. The defense claims she was shot as she and Mrs. Klumpp grappled for a gun in Mrs. Klumpp's car. It claims skull fractures, testified to by Dr. Cleveland, were suffered as a "scared" Mrs. Klumpp dragged her from the automobile and packed the body into the trunk.

Hamilton County Prosecutor C. Watson Hover said there will be additional evidence to show Mrs. Klumpp shot Mrs. Bergen and then beat her on the head with the gun, a .22 calibre target pistol.

The defense claim is that Mrs. Klumpp got into the back seat to remove an obstruction under the front seat and that Mrs. Bergen was pointing the gun at her when she arose. Hopkins says the shooting then occurred as they fought over the gun.

Dr. Cleveland was on the witness stand for more than three hours Wednesday. He made two autopsies on Mrs. Bergen's body and he stuck to his report that death was due to skull fractures caused by multiple blows upon the head. One of those fractures was at the base of the occipital bone of the skull. It was near there, he said, that he found a metal fragment on the second autopsy which possibly could come from a bullet.

No bullet ever was found. Dr. Cleveland said the neck and head of Mrs. Bergen were so badly burned he could not detect anyplace where a bullet might have entered.

The second autopsy was performed after Mrs. Klumpp's arrest and after she had made a statement claiming Mrs. Bergen was shot accidentally.

Wednesday, Hopkins used a human skull to point out the occipital fracture to the jury.

He also sat an assistant in a chair and feigned blows on the back of his head with a gun. Dr. Cleveland said blows struck from either side might have caused the fracture or an overhead blow might have done it had the head been bent forward.

During all of that, Mrs. Klumpp sat with her head bowed and stared straight at the floor. She had wept as a screen and projector were being set up to show the jury pictures of Mrs. Bergen's body.

Structural Workers' Strike Halts Projects

CINCINNATI (AP)—Steel work on some 75 building projects, including a 30-story midtown skyscraper of the Kroger Co., halted today as some 550 structural iron workers struck to back up wage increase demands.

They were members of the Iron Workers, Riggers, Structural Ornamental Riggers and Machinery Movers Local 44. But no pickets will march, said business agent Milton Davis, unless other builders attempt to take over the idled jobs.

The strike followed refusal of the men to accept a 10-cent an hour wage boost proposed by their bosses, members of the Structural and Architectural Metal Erectors and Riggers Assn.

Jury Decides Girl's Insane In Slayings

MAUSTON, Wis. (AP)—A jury decided Wednesday night that attractive Jane Dakin, 17, who likes to read Shakespeare and play the piano, was insane at the time she killed her wealthy parents.

The Circuit Court jury of 11 men and one woman, after deliberating three hours, found that Miss Dakin was innocent on two counts of first degree murder because she was insane at the time of the act. This was the plea she had entered for her trial.

The girl admitted shooting her mother, Elizabeth, 43, and then her father, Thomas, 46, with an automatic .22-caliber rifle the night of Dec. 1. Seventeen shots were fired from the gun, most of them striking the parents. Afterward she went to a friend's home and told of the double slaying.

She testified at her trial that she had discussed "Hamlet" and other works of Shakespeare with her mother shortly before she shot the mother to death in their home. She killed her father when he entered the home a short time later, she said.

Judge Bruce Beilfuss remanded the girl to the custody of the Juneau County sheriff and said he would confer with public welfare officials before deciding whether the girl should be sent to an institution for a determination of her sanity now and whether she should have psychiatric treatment.

Fred Astaire Readies Another 'Evening'

The most famous feet in the world already have begun to tap for an October show that safely can be adjudged in advance as a four-star event. This is the only kind of show Astaire knows how to do, though his modesty doesn't allow him to attribute his perfectionism to anything but long, arduous rehearsals. His work record provides him with a good argument.

Marie Torre

Astaire gave about three months of his time to his initial television performance last October, and here he's already at work on a show that won't see the light of home screens for months.

"Like I said," remarks Astaire. "I'd be nothing without lots of rehearsal time."

THE DANCE MASTER'S second contribution to television, again a Chrysler-sponsored event on NBC, will be called "Another Evening With Fred Astaire."

For a fellow who's "still in orbit" from the acclaim that greeted the first "Evening With Fred Astaire," he's done a remarkably clear-headed job of mapping out the format of his next TV endeavor. He's even engaged his dancing partner, again Barrie Chase, the long-limbed beauty of fresh talent who was rocketed to fame overnight as a result of her stunning efforts opposite Astaire last October.

"And what I didn't have to do to get her!" exclaimed Astaire, whose request for Miss Chase's services caused a whole rearrangement of picture schedules at 20th Century-Fox.

"But it was worth the effort. Barrie's very clever. She's got lots of style. I've lined up about half a dozen possibilities for numbers we can do on the show, one of them revolving around a song I composed with words by Johnny Mercer.

"My main concern is to do a show that will have a freshness about it and won't look like the last one. It's not easy, believe me."

IT'S THIS time - consuming devotion to perfection that prevents Astaire from accepting more than one television show a year. After all, he has other interests.

On his movie agenda are a few commitments, and recently he added book writing to his preoccupations (his autobiography, "Step in Time," will be published this month). He also has nine TV Emmys on the mantlepiece to keep polished.

"It was sort of bewildering getting all those Emmys," remarked Astaire, who made an unsuccessful attempt at returning one of them—the best actor award—to the Academy of Television Arts And Sciences.

"When I heard the protests about my getting the best actor award, I wanted to do the right thing and I asked the academy to take back the award. They didn't react favorably to that. They said, 'What's the matter with you? Are you crazy? Four thousand members of the Academy voted you for the award, and you can't take this lightly'."

"Anyway," added Astaire, echoing popular sentiment about that "best actor" award, "it was a funny incident."

MAURICE EVANS, devoted to Shakespearean works, has accepted the starring role in "The Tempest," one of six 90-minute dramas to be given on "Hallmark Hall of Fame" next season. . . .

What kind of summer will it be? Our own survey reveals that two-thirds of prime evening time (between 7:30 and 10:30 p.m.) on the networks will be filled with reruns. Oh, to be away from TV, now that summer's here! . . .

Television has a booster in the national chairman of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Harry Christopher of Los Angeles, who issued a National Audience Board survey indicating that 89 per cent of the 11 million members approved the present programming for children. This is in sharp conflict with the national committee of the Parent-Teacher Assn., which is demanding reforms in TV programming for children.

Polly Bergen, unmoved by many-figured guest appearance offers, gets away from TV proposals this week when she goes to Europe, returning in August. . . .

Jack Benny was "appointed" chief justice of the "Ancient and Independent Province of Beverly Hills." At the presentation ceremonies, Benny said: "I don't deserve all these kind words, but, as a friend of mine said, I've got arthritis and I don't deserve that either."

Murder Trial To Move Into Garage Scene

CINCINNATI (AP) — Edythe Klumpp's first degree murder trial moves today, at least for a time, into a basement garage in the Hamilton County Courthouse.

It is there that defense attorney William F. Hopkins will continue his cross-examination of Dr. Frank Cleveland, Hamilton County pathologist.

It is there that Mrs. Klumpp's automobile is stored and that Hopkins declared dramatically Wednesday, "We will show exactly how Louise Bergen met her death."

Mrs. Klumpp, twice - divorced mother of four, is accused of shooting and bludgeoning Mrs. Bergen in the Klumpp automobile last Oct. 30. She is accused of burning the body at Lake Cowan in nearby Clinton County the next day after keeping it overnight in the trunk of her car.

She and William Bergen, Mrs. Bergen's estranged husband, had been living together and the state claims she wanted to marry him.

Wednesday, Hopkins suddenly broke off his cross-examination of Dr Cleveland with the assertion he could go no further without the automobile.

"I cannot say at this time why it is so important that we have certain demonstrations to make," Hopkins said.

He agreed to go to the garage if it was not feasible to move the car's body into the courtroom. That was left up to him and he finally decided upon the garage session.

From attorneys' statements and testimony thus far, the dispute over the death of Mrs. Bergen apparently is this:

The state contends Mrs. Bergen was shot and bludgeoned to death and then burned. The defense claims she was shot as she and Mrs. Klumpp grappled for a gun in Mrs. Klumpp's car. It claims skull fractures, testified to by Dr. Cleveland, were suffered as a "scared" Mrs. Klumpp dragged her from the automobile and packed the body into the trunk.

Hamilton County Prosecutor C. Watson Hover said there will be additional evidence to show Mrs. Klumpp shot Mrs. Bergen and then beat her on the head with the gun, a .22 calibre target pistol.

The defense claim is that Mrs. Klumpp got into the back seat to remove an obstruction under the front seat and that Mrs. Bergen was pointing the gun at her when she arose. Hopkins says the shooting then occurred as they fought over the gun.

Dr. Cleveland was on the witness stand for more than three hours Wednesday. He made two autopsies on Mrs. Bergen's body and he stuck to his report that death was due to skull fractures caused by multiple blows upon the head. One of those fractures was at the base of the occipital bone of the skull. It was near there, he said, that he found a metal fragment on the second autopsy which possibly could come from a bullet.

No bullet ever was found. Dr. Cleveland said the neck and head of Mrs. Bergen were so badly burned he could not detect anyplace where a bullet might have entered.

The second autopsy was performed after Mrs. Klumpp's arrest and after she had made a statement claiming Mrs. Bergen was shot accidentally.

Wednesday, Hopkins used a human skull to point out the occipital fracture to the jury.

He also sat an assistant in a chair and feigned blows on the back of his head with a gun. Dr. Cleveland said blows struck from either side might have caused the fracture or an overhead blow might have done it had the head been bent forward.

During all of that, Mrs. Klumpp sat with her head bowed and stared straight at the floor. She had wept as a screen and projector were being set up to show the jury pictures of Mrs. Bergen's body.

Structural Workers' Strike Halts Projects

CINCINNATI (AP)—Steel work on some 75 building projects, including a 30-story midtown skyscraper of the Kroger Co., halted today as some 550 structural iron workers struck to back up wage increase demands.

They were members of the Iron Workers, Riggers, Structural Ornamental Riggers and Machinery Movers Local 44. But no pickets will march, said business agent Milton Davis, unless other builders attempt to take over the idled jobs.

The strike followed refusal of the men to accept a 10-cent an hour wage boost proposed by their bosses, members of the Structural and Architectural Metal Erectors and Riggers Assn.

Jury Decides Girl's Insane In Slayings

MAUSTON, Wis. (AP)—A jury decided Wednesday night that attractive Jane Dakin, 17, who likes to read Shakespeare and play the piano, was insane at the time she killed her wealthy parents.

The Circuit Court jury of 11 men and one woman, after deliberating three hours, found that Miss Dakin was innocent on two counts of first degree murder because she was insane at the time of the act. This was the plea she had entered for her trial.

The girl admitted shooting her mother, Elizabeth, 43, and then her father, Thomas, 46, with an automatic .22-caliber rifle the night of Dec. 1. Seventeen shots were fired from the gun, most of them striking the parents. Afterward she went to a friend's home and told of the double slaying.

She testified at her trial that she had discussed "Hamlet" and other works of Shakespeare with her mother shortly before she shot the mother to death in their home. She killed her father when he entered the home a short time later, she said.

Judge Bruce Beilfuss remanded the girl to the custody of the Juneau County sheriff and said he would confer with public welfare officials before deciding whether the girl should be sent to an institution for a determination of her sanity now and whether she should have psychiatric treatment.

Dodger 'Wrecking Crew' Sweeps Twin Bill From Braves

Giants Breathing Heavy On First

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

What's with the Milwaukee Braves?

They've lost 10 of their last 15 and have been shut out three times in the last five games. Is this the beginning of the end to their hold on the National League pennant? Or is this just another of those slumps, such as they had and shrugged off while winning the flag the past two years.

Either way, they have only a half-game edge left from what was a bulging, 4½-game lead a month ago after dropping a twi-night doubleheader at Los Angeles Wednesday night. They were checked on five hits by lefthander Sandy Koufax while losing the opener 10-2, then were blanked on two hits by Danny McDevitt, another lefty, as the Dodgers took the second game 4-0.

That put second place San Francisco, a 7-5 winner over Cincinnati, just one game behind in the "lost" column and within .009 percentage points of the champs. The sweep hoisted the Dodgers into fourth place, one percentage point behind Pittsburgh after the Pirates' 5-2 loss to the Chicago Cubs. Both the Dodgers and Bucs are only 2½ games from the top.

St. Louis whipped Philadelphia 10-4 in the other NL game.

They've lost behind their best pitchers in this present skid, with Lew Burdette dropping two, Bob Rush three, and Bob Buhl one. In Wednesday night's opener, southpaw ace Warren Spahn failed to finish a five-run first inning for his third defeat in his last four decisions.

The Braves, getting a first game home run from Johnny Logan against Koufax (3-1), who gained his first complete game while beating Milwaukee a second time this year, had only a pair of singles by Hank Aaron in the nightcap. McDevitt (5-6), walked three, struck out two.

Los Angeles broke through a two-hit shutout by Joey Jay (2-5) in the seventh of a bases-loaded walk and an infield out, then added two in the eighth off Bob Trowbridge on a single by Don Demeter and Gil Hodges' double.

The Giants broke a 2-2 tie with five runs in the sixth against Orlando Pena (3-5) on three singles, one a two-run smack by Willie Kirkland, three walks and an error.

Cal Neeman, who singled and scored the tying run in the seventh for the Cubs, hit a three-run, inside-the-park homer in the eighth to beat Pirate southpaw Harvey Haddix (4-5), who has lost four to Chicago. Bill Henry (5-3) won it in relief.

The Cards made it 9 out of 11 with Ray Jablonski and Bill White each driving in three runs. A five-run fifth put it away against reliever Humberto Robinson (1-1) while lefty Marshall Bridges held the Phils to five hits and one run for a winning, 5 1-3-inning relief job in his major league debut.

NCAA World Series Scheduled For Tonight

OMAHA (AP)—Oklahoma State and Arizona meet tonight in the championship game of the NCAA college baseball world series with each seeking a first title. Oklahoma State moved into the championship round via a 4-0 win over Fresno State Wednesday night.

Both Arizona and Oklahoma State have won three and lost one in the double elimination tourney.

PITCHER MILT PAPPAS (left) who pitched a two-hit shutout against Detroit Wednesday, is shown with shortstop Chico Carrasquel (center) who hit his third homer of the season and catcher Gus Triandos (right) who belted his 15th roundtripper. Dizzy Dean Injects Life In Famed Gas House Gang

ST. LOUIS, Mo., (AP) — The fearless, brawling Gas House Gang sounded more like a group of altar boys Wednesday night until Jerome (Dizzy) Dean took the microphone.

Old Diz brought the 25th anniversary ceremonies to life and showed 16,767 fans what they have been missing all these years.

Dizzy started slowly by saying how glad he was to be back in St. Louis, "where I was, after all, a pretty fair country pitcher."

He called St. Louis fans the "greatest in the country" and offered this prediction: "There won't be any clubs moving away from this town at all . . . no more." This was a reference to the old St. Louis Browns.

As an encore Dean took the microphone again and stomped out the Mudcat Band tune he had made famous, "Wabash Cannonball."

Diz was through then, but he had only started the show. Pepper Martin, Rip Collins, Joe (Ducky) Medwick, and others took a turn at bat while Dizzy — now 255 pounds and white haired — fogged them in.

Medwick gave the fans a thrill by going for the left field bleachers. One of his drives made it but was barely foul.

While Medwick was in left field the famed "battle of produce row" of the seventh game of the 1934 World Series was re-enacted. A few fans tossed vegetables on the field as part of the act, and Medwick was escorted off the field. Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick — chin on hands in the manner of the late Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis — ruled that Medwick would have to leave the game.

By the way; the Cardinals won the seventh game 11-0 over Detroit.

Elmore Chilton is the only non-Californian on the University of California crew. He's from Lynchburg, Va.

Tomy Lee's Boss Refuses To Race

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Turmoil was the word for racing at Hollywood Park today — most of it over two stars of the meeting, Kentucky Derby winner Tomy Lee and stakes winner Hillsdale.

Owner Fred Turner, Jr., of Texas took Tomy Lee temporarily out of racing in his anger at Willie Shoemaker's agent, Harry Silbert.

And Trainer Maty Fallon declared flatly Hillsdale would not race in the $50,000 added Inglewood Handicap Saturday because of the high weight of 132 pounds handed his four-year-old bay colt. And Hillsdale may skip out and race elsewhere.

Turner, the fiery oil and cattle baron from Midland, Tex., announced that Tomy Lee would not race any more this summer and that he will get out of the game to the extent of selling 14 other horses in his stable at auction July 13.

Turner was still boiling over the fact that Shoemaker did not ride Tomy Lee in the $50,000 added Cinema Handicap last Saturday but was booked instead by Silbert to ride Sword Dancer in the $100,000 added Belmont Stakes.

Sword Dancer won the Belmont and Tomy Lee, with jockey Don Pierce aboard, ran sixth in the Cinema.

Turner said plans for Tomy Lee are indefinite.

"I leave with no hard feelings toward jockey Bill Shoemaker, who I think is one of the finest riders in the world, but I do not like the manner in which his agent, Harry Silbert, gave me his word that Shoemaker would ride Tomy Lee and then put "Shoe" on another horse."

Neither Shoemaker nor Pierce, whom Turner absolved from any blame for Tomy Lee's poor race, cared to comment.

Silbert reiterated that his only verbal promise to Turner was that Shoemaker would ride Tomy Lee in the Hollywood Derby and later, the Arlington Classic at Chicago.

Fallon, who said he was backed up by his boss, C.W. Smith, was furious at the 132 pounds handed Hillsdale for the Saturday feature.

"What do they think I am, an idiot?" Fallon declared. "After 30 years around a race track I won't take this."

"You can say," Fallon concluded, "the horse is able and wants to run Saturday, but he won't."

Trainer For Cincinnati Has His Own Troubles

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Like any other practitioner in the gentle art of healting, Dr. Wayne Oakley Anderson finds himself concerned with other people's troubles—as if the "miseries" of his own Cincinnati Reds were not enough!

And, voluntarily, he is taking on more.

At the moment, it isn't enough for the Redlegs' trainer that his own Don Newcombe almost daily must be helped into condition.

But as of Wednesday, he confided that he has taken Herm Wehmeier under his care even though Herm long since has been out of a Cincinnati uniform. Herm, a product of Cincinnati sandlots, recently was dropped by the detroit Tigers after he had been waived out by the St. Louis Cards.

Wehmeier's throwing arm has been ailing. Recently he has been working out with the Reds—and when they are home Anderson bears down in an effort to remedy the condition. His most recent therapy is an iron baseball.

In Wednesday's game, Cincinnati could do little to stave off an 11-hit attack, including homers by Jim Davenport and Daryl Spencer, as the San Francisco Giants won 7-5.

Johnny Temple hit a solo homer off Jones in the ninth.

Cox Construction broke on top with two runs in the first, then added a pair in the second and two more in the fourth.

Chamberlain helped his own cause by stroking a double and single while Jack Byers, who had a taste of AAA ball during his baseball career, collected a triple and single. Another three base hit was added by Stan Franczek.

Vic Reed, who also struck out nine, was checked with the loss.

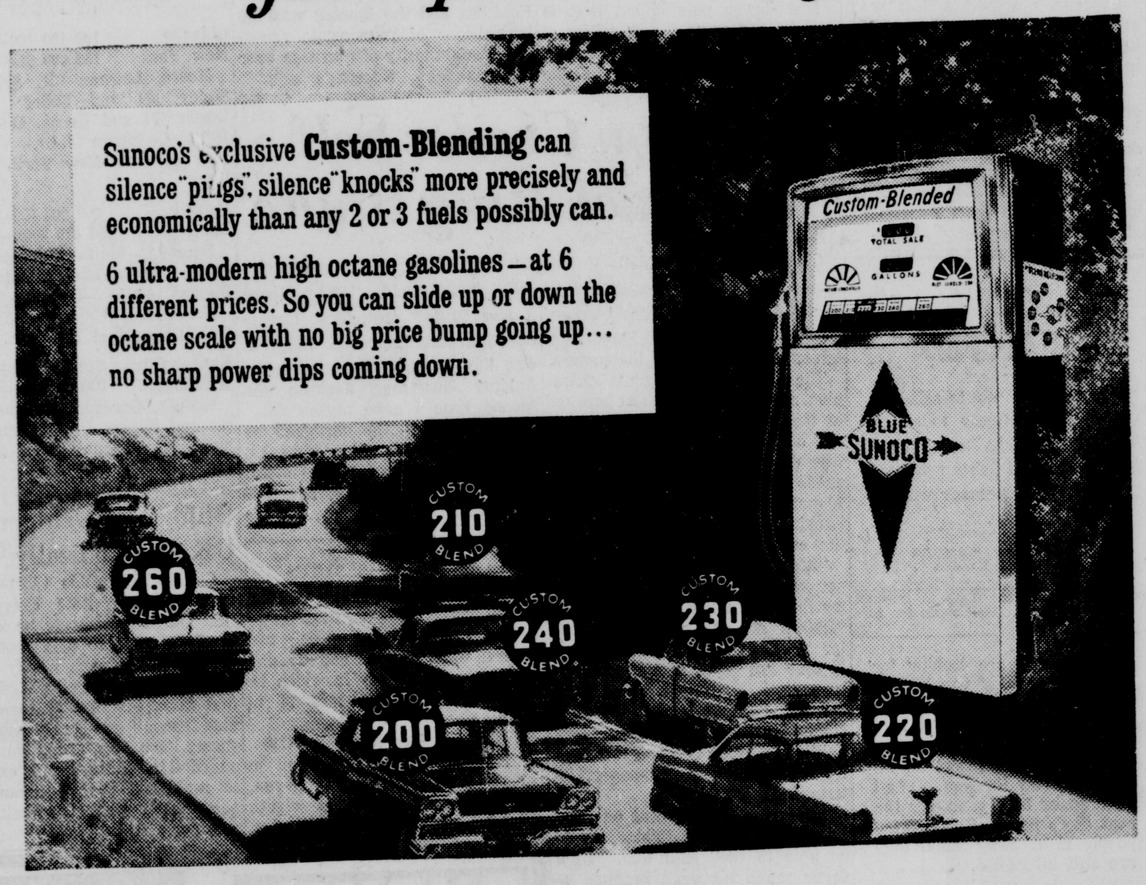
How much "HUSH MONEY" do you have to pay for a quiet-running engine?



Unlike other service stations, Sunoco doesn't make you jump 3¢ or 4¢ up in price in order to get quiet-running premium gasoline. To begin with, Sunoco's Blend "200"—at "regular" price—is proved higher in anti-knock quality than most "regular" buyers are getting anywhere else. Or you can ease up to even higher octane for only 1¢ more per gallon. This is because Sunoco—and only Sunoco—offers the "in-between" octane strengths you can't possibly get where only 2 or 3 grades are sold. And if you are already paying super-premium prices, you may find you can save on every gallon without losing any of the power built into your car. Only Sunoco Custom Blends 6 fuels at 6 different prices to fit every car – without wasting money on octane your car can't use.

NCAA World Series Scheduled For Tonight

OMAHA (AP)—Oklahoma State and Arizona meet tonight in the championship game of the NCAA college baseball world series with each seeking a first title. Oklahoma State moved into the championship round via a 4-0 win over Fresno State Wednesday night.

Both Arizona and Oklahoma State have won three and lost one in the double elimination tourney.

Dizzy Dean Injects Life In Famed Gas House Gang

ST. LOUIS, Mo., (AP) — The fearless, brawling Gas House Gang sounded more like a group of altar boys Wednesday night until Jerome (Dizzy) Dean took the microphone.

Old Diz brought the 25th anniversary ceremonies to life and showed 16,767 fans what they have been missing all these years.

Dizzy started slowly by saying how glad he was to be back in St. Louis, "where I was, after all, a pretty fair country pitcher."

He called St. Louis fans the "greatest in the country" and offered this prediction: "There won't be any clubs moving away from this town at all . . . no more." This was a reference to the old St. Louis Browns.

As an encore Dean took the microphone again and stomped out the Mudcat Band tune he had made famous, "Wabash Cannonball."

Diz was through then, but he had only started the show. Pepper Martin, Rip Collins, Joe (Ducky) Medwick, and others took a turn at bat while Dizzy — now 255 pounds and white haired — fogged them in.

Medwick gave the fans a thrill by going for the left field bleachers. One of his drives made it but was barely foul.

While Medwick was in left field the famed "battle of produce row" of the seventh game of the 1934 World Series was re-enacted. A few fans tossed vegetables on the field as part of the act, and Medwick was escorted off the field. Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick — chin on hands in the manner of the late Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis — ruled that Medwick would have to leave the game.

By the way; the Cardinals won the seventh game 11-0 over Detroit.

Tomy Lee's Boss Refuses To Race

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Turmoil was the word for racing at Hollywood Park today — most of it over two stars of the meeting, Kentucky Derby winner Tomy Lee and stakes winner Hillsdale.

Owner Fred Turner, Jr., of Texas took Tomy Lee temporarily out of racing in his anger at Willie Shoemaker's agent, Harry Silbert.

And Trainer Maty Fallon declared flatly Hillsdale would not race in the $50,000 added Inglewood Handicap Saturday because of the high weight of 132 pounds handed his four-year-old bay colt. And Hillsdale may skip out and race elsewhere.

Turner, the fiery oil and cattle baron from Midland, Tex., announced that Tomy Lee would not race any more this summer and that he will get out of the game to the extent of selling 14 other horses in his stable at auction July 13.

Turner was still boiling over the fact that Shoemaker did not ride Tomy Lee in the $50,000 added Cinema Handicap last Saturday but was booked instead by Silbert to ride Sword Dancer in the $100,000 added Belmont Stakes.

Sword Dancer won the Belmont and Tomy Lee, with jockey Don Pierce aboard, ran sixth in the Cinema.

Turner said plans for Tomy Lee are indefinite.

"I leave with no hard feelings toward jockey Bill Shoemaker, who I think is one of the finest riders in the world, but I do not like the manner in which his agent, Harry Silbert, gave me his word that Shoemaker would ride Tomy Lee and then put "Shoe" on another horse."

Neither Shoemaker nor Pierce, whom Turner absolved from any blame for Tomy Lee's poor race, cared to comment.

Silbert reiterated that his only verbal promise to Turner was that Shoemaker would ride Tomy Lee in the Hollywood Derby and later, the Arlington Classic at Chicago.

Fallon, who said he was backed up by his boss, C.W. Smith, was furious at the 132 pounds handed Hillsdale for the Saturday feature.

"What do they think I am, an idiot?" Fallon declared. "After 30 years around a race track I won't take this."

"You can say," Fallon concluded, "the horse is able and wants to run Saturday, but he won't."

Trainer For Cincinnati Has His Own Troubles

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Like any other practitioner in the gentle art of healting, Dr. Wayne Oakley Anderson finds himself concerned with other people's troubles—as if the "miseries" of his own Cincinnati Reds were not enough!

And, voluntarily, he is taking on more.

At the moment, it isn't enough for the Redlegs' trainer that his own Don Newcombe almost daily must be helped into condition.

But as of Wednesday, he confided that he has taken Herm Wehmeier under his care even though Herm long since has been out of a Cincinnati uniform. Herm, a product of Cincinnati sandlots, recently was dropped by the detroit Tigers after he had been waived out by the St. Louis Cards.

Wehmeier's throwing arm has been ailing. Recently he has been working out with the Reds—and when they are home Anderson bears down in an effort to remedy the condition. His most recent therapy is an iron baseball.

In Wednesday's game, Cincinnati could do little to stave off an 11-hit attack, including homers by Jim Davenport and Daryl Spencer, as the San Francisco Giants won 7-5.

Johnny Temple hit a solo homer off Jones in the ninth.

No rest for this Chevy... round the clock the engine never stops!

At Washington's bustling National Airport, Allied Aviation Fueling counts on its radio-equipped Chevy to get crews and tank trucks to the right planes at just the right time. How much "HUSH MONEY" do you have to pay for a quiet-running engine?

Unlike other service stations, Sunoco doesn't make you jump 3¢ or 4¢ up in price in order to get quiet-running premium gasoline. To begin with, Sunoco's Blend "200"—at "regular" price—is proved higher in anti-knock quality than most "regular" buyers are getting anywhere else. Or you can ease up to even higher octane for only 1¢ more per gallon. This is because Sunoco—and only Sunoco—offers the "in-between" octane strengths you can't possibly get where only 2 or 3 grades are sold. And if you are already paying super-premium prices, you may find you can save on every gallon without losing any of the power built into your car. Only Sunoco Custom Blends 6 fuels at 6 different prices to fit every car – without wasting money on octane your car can't use.

Pappas Blanks Detroit With Two-Hit Job, 4-0

Yankees Gain Two Straight Over Chicago

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Young Milt Pappas has his first major league shutout, and he couldn't have picked a better time to nail it.

The big Baltimore right-hander, 20, dropped Detroit's Tigers 4-0 with a two-hitter Wednesday night and halted the Orioles' skid in the American League race.

Pappas, signed two years ago off the Detroit sandlots, struck out six and didn't walk a man. He had a perfect game going until Lew Berberet got the first of the Tigers' two singles with two out in the fifth inning. The other hit, in the sixth, was by Jim Bunning, who allowed only four Baltimore hits and had a perfect game for 4 1-3 innings. But he lost for the third time in his last four decisions.

Pappas retired the last 11 men in a row while gaining a 6-3 record.

That left the fourth-place Birds, who have lost five of seven since tying for first last week, 3½ games behind Cleveland's league-leading Indians, whose game at Boston was postponed because of cold weather. The loss barred the Tigers, who had won three straight, from a second place tie with the Chicago White Sox, beaten 7-3 at New York. Washington escaped a last-place tie with Boston by beating Kansas City 7-2.

The Orioles, who had lost three straight, broke through Bunning's perfect spell when Gus Triandos and Chico Carrasquel hit solo home runs in the fifth inning. A single by Al Pilarcik, Gene Woodling's triple, and an error produced the other two Oriole runs in the seventh.

The fifth place Yankees returned to .500 with their second straight over the White Sox. Mickey Mantle's 14th homer, a two-on wallop into the third deck in right field at Yankee Stadium, capped a wrap-up, five-run second inning against loser Ray Moore (1-5). Bob Turley (6-7) made it six straight over the White Sox since August, 1956, but needed Ryne Duren's relief over the last 2 2-3 innings.

Turley, who has been suspected of having a "dead arm" by Manager Casey Stengel, struck out six in the first two innings but then tired quickly.

Camilo Pascual (5-7), who had lost three in a row and hadn't won since May 27 despite five consecutive complete games, handed the A's their fourth consecutive loss with an eight-hitter. He fanned eight and was backed by two-run homers from Rookie Bob Allison and Reno Bertoia. It boosted the Senators' AL leading total to 80. Ned Garver (5-5) lost it.

First National, Bergeners Win In Minor League

Bergener's scored a 15-2 win over Furniture City and First National Bank defeated the Elks, 6-4, in the Little Minor League.

Gamble was the winning pitcher and also helped Bergener's in the hitting department with a triple, double and single while Gerace and Fletcher had four hits apiece.

Frederick and Jones with three hit apiece paced the First National nine to victory.

'Not Meddling In Politics,' Olympic President Says

PARIS (AP)—Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, says the American people, including President Eisenhower, have the wrong idea of the committee's position in regard to Nationalist China.

Far from meddling in politics, Brundage says, the IOC is trying to stay out of politics. And instead of barring the Nationalists from the Olympic competition, it is trying to effect a compromise that will permit them to compete.

Brundage's statement was made in reply to the President's remark at a news conference Wednesday that the IOC had strayed into political fields in refusing to accept Nationalist Chinese athletes as representatives of the Republic of China.

Eisenhower pointed out that 45 nations recognize the Republic of China government and consider Formosa as the temporary abode of the government. Then he added:

"Frankly it seems to me that the Olympic Committee has gotten into politics rather than merely into international athletics."

The IOC, at a meeting at Munich last month withdrew recognition of the Chinese National Olympic Committee but told the Nationalists they could be readmitted under another name. An application under the name of the Republic of China Olympic Committee was rejected on the same grounds—that the committee does not control athletics on the mainland.

This action, and Brundage, have drawn severe criticism on the grounds that the move was inspired by the communists.

The IOC has refused to accept communist claims of control over Formosa and the Munich was the logical one of refusing to recognize the authority of Formosa over the mainland, Brundage said.

Patterson Grades Self After Each Ring Battle

CHATHAM, N.J. (AP)—If Junior's report card wasn't up to snuff, don't blame the teacher. Just give thanks that Floyd Patterson wasn't grading the papers.

The heavyweight champion must be the toughest marker in the world. He once gave himself only 11 per cent in one of his title defenses. In fact the highest grade he has ever handed out was 70 per cent for his effort against Archie Moore the night he won the crown.

"Right now, I'd say I am 100 per cent," he said Wednesday after finishing a four-round workout. "Before a fight you can't settle for anything lower. But after it is over I'm going to make myself lower."

What was that again? Does the champ grade himself after every fight?

Cus D'Amato, his manager, interrupted.

"He bases 100 per cent on what he thinks a perfect fighter should be able to do," said Cus. "He'll never reach his peak because he asks so much of himself."

"After every fight I grade myself," Floyd said. "After Moore it was 70 per cent. That had to be my most important fight. It was the night I won the title. Against Hurricane Jackson the second time I gave myself 65.

"Roy Harris? (he shrugged as though disgusted with himself). I gave myself about 11 that night. And Brian London? Oh, about 45 per cent."

Yesterday's Stars

Pitching — Milt Pappas, Orioles, chilled Tigers with his first major league shutout, giving up only two singles, walking none and striking out six in 4-0 victory in which he retired first 14 and last 11 in order.

Hitting — Cal Neeman, Cubs, singled and scored tying run in seventh inning, then hit three-run, inside-the-park homer in eighth for 5-2 victory over the Pirates.

Ohio State Gridders OK Scholastically

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Every man on Ohio State University's first two teams should be scholastically eligible to play football in the fall, says Coach Woody Hayes.

Hayes announced Wednesday that 21 of his first 22 men made high enough grade averages this spring. The only exception, No. 2 guard Gabe Hartman, is expected to make up the one course he needs at Dayton University this summer.

Anyone For Football? Paul Brown Set To Go

CLEVELAND (AP)—Anyone for football?

Paul Brown, coach of the Cleveland Browns is ready. He arrived back in town from his first European tour and revived football talk.

"First chance I've had in weeks," he said. "Nobody on the ship going over, nobody in all Europe and nobody on the ship coming back ever heard of the Cleveland Browns, the National Football League or Paul Brown. Consequently, nobody asked any questions. It was kind of good for a change."

The big news was that Lou Groza, the star place-kicker, will be back again with the Browns. The 35-year-old tackle from Martins Ferry, Ohio, is the only player still with the Browns who was with the club when it was formed in 1946.

The Browns also announced the signing of five new players—halfback Dick LeBeau of Ohio State; end Joe Wenzel of Lehigh; linebacker Ray Reese of Bowling Green State University; linebacker Jerry King of Kent State, and end John Stillwell of Northwestern.

Brown indicated he believes the major problems in team personnel have been solved since the close of the disheartening 1958 season, when Cleveland lost to the New York Giants in a playoff for the eastern division title.

The problems, said the coach, were lack of speed in the pass receivers, and a blocking weakness in the internal offensive line.

The acquisition of Billy Howton from Green Bay, plus the drafting of some fast collegians will, Brown thinks, improve the pass-catching department. He said he plans to flank both Howton, a veteran end, and Ray Renfro, along with a third slot receiver—either to the right or the left.

During the draft, the coach said he concentrated on internal linemen and is convinced he obtained what the situation called for—men who are both big and fast.

Brown said he plans to work both Preston Carpenter, an end for the past two seasons, and fullback Ed Modzelewski, at right halfback in a backfield featuring the great Jimmy Brown at fullback and Bobby Mitchell at left halfback.

How about quarterback, a position Milt Plum hung on to last season?

"I'm still planning to start with (Jim) Ninowski and give him every chance to make it," Brown disclosed.

Walker Furious When Ump Calls Game In Sixth

By The Associated Press

The loss of joy in Mudville after mighty Casey struck out was nothing compared to the feelings of Toronto Manager Dixie Walker after his team lost 2-0 to Miami in a rain-curtailed International League game Wednesday.

Walker was furious when umpire Harry Schwarts halted play in the sixth inning with one run in, two Toronto runners on base and cleanup hitter Dave Pope coming up.

"It was raining no harder when they stopped it than it was when (Leo) Burke hit the home run in the fifth," Walker fumed afterward. Burke's homer came with a man on to account for both of Miami's runs.

Buffalo strengthened its first place lead to 1½ games with a 3-1 victory over Columbus while second-place Richmond lost its second straight to Rochester, 6-5. Montreal and Havana were rained out.

Pappas Blanks Detroit With Two-Hit Job, 4-0

Yankees Gain Two Straight Over Chicago

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Young Milt Pappas has his first major league shutout, and he couldn't have picked a better time to nail it.

The big Baltimore right-hander, 20, dropped Detroit's Tigers 4-0 with a two-hitter Wednesday night and halted the Orioles' skid in the American League race.

Pappas, signed two years ago off the Detroit sandlots, struck out six and didn't walk a man. He had a perfect game going until Lew Berberet got the first of the Tigers' two singles with two out in the fifth inning. The other hit, in the sixth, was by Jim Bunning, who allowed only four Baltimore hits and had a perfect game for 4 1-3 innings. But he lost for the third time in his last four decisions.

Pappas retired the last 11 men in a row while gaining a 6-3 record.

That left the fourth-place Birds, who have lost five of seven since tying for first last week, 3½ games behind Cleveland's league-leading Indians, whose game at Boston was postponed because of cold weather. The loss barred the Tigers, who had won three straight, from a second place tie with the Chicago White Sox, beaten 7-3 at New York. Washington escaped a last-place tie with Boston by beating Kansas City 7-2.

The Orioles, who had lost three straight, broke through Bunning's perfect spell when Gus Triandos and Chico Carrasquel hit solo home runs in the fifth inning. A single by Al Pilarcik, Gene Woodling's triple, and an error produced the other two Oriole runs in the seventh.

The fifth place Yankees returned to .500 with their second straight over the White Sox. Mickey Mantle's 14th homer, a two-on wallop into the third deck in right field at Yankee Stadium, capped a wrap-up, five-run second inning against loser Ray Moore (1-5). Bob Turley (6-7) made it six straight over the White Sox since August, 1956, but needed Ryne Duren's relief over the last 2 2-3 innings.

Turley, who has been suspected of having a "dead arm" by Manager Casey Stengel, struck out six in the first two innings but then tired quickly.

Camilo Pascual (5-7), who had lost three in a row and hadn't won since May 27 despite five consecutive complete games, handed the A's their fourth consecutive loss with an eight-hitter. He fanned eight and was backed by two-run homers from Rookie Bob Allison and Reno Bertoia. It boosted the Senators' AL leading total to 80. Ned Garver (5-5) lost it.

SHERM LOLLAR of the White Sox has some angry words with umpire John Flaherty after called third strike in fourth inning of game against New York Wednesday in Yankee Stadium. Yanks won, 7-3. (UPI Telephoto)

First National, Bergeners Win In Minor League

Bergener's scored a 15-2 win over Furniture City and First National Bank defeated the Elks, 6-4, in the Little Minor League.

Gamble was the winning pitcher and also helped Bergener's in the hitting department with a triple, double and single while Gerace and Fletcher had four hits apiece.

Frederick and Jones with three hit apiece paced the First National nine to victory.

'Not Meddling In Politics,' Olympic President Says

PARIS (AP)—Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, says the American people, including President Eisenhower, have the wrong idea of the committee's position in regard to Nationalist China.

Far from meddling in politics, Brundage says, the IOC is trying to stay out of politics. And instead of barring the Nationalists from the Olympic competition, it is trying to effect a compromise that will permit them to compete.

Brundage's statement was made in reply to the President's remark at a news conference Wednesday that the IOC had strayed into political fields in refusing to accept Nationalist Chinese athletes as representatives of the Republic of China.

Eisenhower pointed out that 45 nations recognize the Republic of China government and consider Formosa as the temporary abode of the government. Then he added:

"Frankly it seems to me that the Olympic Committee has gotten into politics rather than merely into international athletics."

The IOC, at a meeting at Munich last month withdrew recognition of the Chinese National Olympic Committee but told the Nationalists they could be readmitted under another name. An application under the name of the Republic of China Olympic Committee was rejected on the same grounds—that the committee does not control athletics on the mainland.

This action, and Brundage, have drawn severe criticism on the grounds that the move was inspired by the communists.

The IOC has refused to accept communist claims of control over Formosa and the Munich was the logical one of refusing to recognize the authority of Formosa over the mainland, Brundage said.

Patterson Grades Self After Each Ring Battle

CHATHAM, N.J. (AP)—If Junior's report card wasn't up to snuff, don't blame the teacher. Just give thanks that Floyd Patterson wasn't grading the papers.

The heavyweight champion must be the toughest marker in the world. He once gave himself only 11 per cent in one of his title defenses. In fact the highest grade he has ever handed out was 70 per cent for his effort against Archie Moore the night he won the crown.

"Right now, I'd say I am 100 per cent," he said Wednesday after finishing a four-round workout. "Before a fight you can't settle for anything lower. But after it is over I'm going to make myself lower."

What was that again? Does the champ grade himself after every fight?

Cus D'Amato, his manager, interrupted.

"He bases 100 per cent on what he thinks a perfect fighter should be able to do," said Cus. "He'll never reach his peak because he asks so much of himself."

"After every fight I grade myself," Floyd said. "After Moore it was 70 per cent. That had to be my most important fight. It was the night I won the title. Against Hurricane Jackson the second time I gave myself 65.

"Roy Harris? (he shrugged as though disgusted with himself). I gave myself about 11 that night. And Brian London? Oh, about 45 per cent."

Ohio State Gridders OK Scholastically

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Every man on Ohio State University's first two teams should be scholastically eligible to play football in the fall, says Coach Woody Hayes.

Hayes announced Wednesday that 21 of his first 22 men made high enough grade averages this spring. The only exception, No. 2 guard Gabe Hartman, is expected to make up the one course he needs at Dayton University this summer.

Anyone For Football? Paul Brown Set To Go

CLEVELAND (AP)—Anyone for football?

Paul Brown, coach of the Cleveland Browns is ready. He arrived back in town from his first European tour and revived football talk.

"First chance I've had in weeks," he said. "Nobody on the ship going over, nobody in all Europe and nobody on the ship coming back ever heard of the Cleveland Browns, the National Football League or Paul Brown. Consequently, nobody asked any questions. It was kind of good for a change."

The big news was that Lou Groza, the star place-kicker, will be back again with the Browns. The 35-year-old tackle from Martins Ferry, Ohio, is the only player still with the Browns who was with the club when it was formed in 1946.

The Browns also announced the signing of five new players—halfback Dick LeBeau of Ohio State; end Joe Wenzel of Lehigh; linebacker Ray Reese of Bowling Green State University; linebacker Jerry King of Kent State, and end John Stillwell of Northwestern.

Brown indicated he believes the major problems in team personnel have been solved since the close of the disheartening 1958 season, when Cleveland lost to the New York Giants in a playoff for the eastern division title.

The problems, said the coach, were lack of speed in the pass receivers, and a blocking weakness in the internal offensive line.

The acquisition of Billy Howton from Green Bay, plus the drafting of some fast collegians will, Brown thinks, improve the pass-catching department. He said he plans to flank both Howton, a veteran end, and Ray Renfro, along with a third slot receiver—either to the right or the left.

During the draft, the coach said he concentrated on internal linemen and is convinced he obtained what the situation called for—men who are both big and fast.

Brown said he plans to work both Preston Carpenter, an end for the past two seasons, and fullback Ed Modzelewski, at right halfback in a backfield featuring the great Jimmy Brown at fullback and Bobby Mitchell at left halfback.

How about quarterback, a position Milt Plum hung on to last season?

"I'm still planning to start with (Jim) Ninowski and give him every chance to make it," Brown disclosed.

149 Set To Tee Off In Canadian Open

MONTREAL (AP) —The weather and the condition of the Islesmere course appeared to be two big factors to consider today as a 149-man field, including Bill Casper the newly-crowned U. S. Open champion, began play in the Canadian Open Golf Championship. Fresh from the U.S. Open, played in changeable weather, the touring pros had been expecting to give shorter Islesmere a licking. They changed their tune after a couple of days of practice over the 6,695-yard, par 36-36—72 layout.

Walker Furious When Ump Calls Game In Sixth

By The Associated Press

The loss of joy in Mudville after mighty Casey struck out was nothing compared to the feelings of Toronto Manager Dixie Walker after his team lost 2-0 to Miami in a rain-curtailed International League game Wednesday.

Walker was furious when umpire Harry Schwarts halted play in the sixth inning with one run in, two Toronto runners on base and cleanup hitter Dave Pope coming up.

"It was raining no harder when they stopped it than it was when (Leo) Burke hit the home run in the fifth," Walker fumed afterward. Burke's homer came with a man on to account for both of Miami's runs.

Buffalo strengthened its first place lead to 1½ games with a 3-1 victory over Columbus while second-place Richmond lost its second straight to Rochester, 6-5. Montreal and Havana were rained out.

Fry Believes 59 In '38 Was Better Than Snead's

By JACK STEVENSON

ALAMEDA, Calif., (AP) — Sam Snead's recent competitive golf record 59 for 18 holes has brought back fond memories for a fellow you've probably never heard about.

Earl Fry, pro at the Alameda Municipal course the past 32 years, also had a 59—back in 1938.

"I think my round was more sensational than Snead's," Earl declares, "because I wasn't that kind of a golfer and Sam has always been great. The only thing we have in common is that we both wear hats on the course."

Earl recalls:

"My brother, Mark, was the best golfer around in those days and we were playing in the second round of the Northern California PGA, a match play tournament at this Alameda course.

"It had been raining on and off for about 40 days and many of the courses were closed because of soggy fairways.

"I beat my brother 7 and 6, I think it was, but because I was shooting so well, we played out the full 18 holes under regulation conditions. Vito Machado, who worked for me, had given me a good tip on how to cure a hook and it worked. Then my putts starting dropping."

EDITOR'S NOTE: While it is unusual to turn in a medal (stroke) score for a test that began as match (hole-by-hole) play, a USGA spokesman says there is nothing in the rule books to prevent it.)

Fry had 12 birdies. He had 29 strokes on the front nine and 30 on the back nine for his phenomenal 59 over the par 71 course.

Alameda measured about 6,150 yards that day compared with 6,317 for Greenbrier (par 70) at White Sulpher Springs, W. Va., the day of Snead's great round.

Hole by hole, here's how Fry recalls his score:

Par out 445 344 343—34
Par in 544 344 445—37—71
Fry out 335 343 233—29
Fry in 433 333 344—30-59

Fry's long putts included 18-footers on the second and sixth, a 25-footer on the 12th and a 10-footer on the 16th.

Luck played a part also, as Earl remembers:

"On the 12th my tee shot hooked. It could have gone out of bounds but hit a bank and came back onto the fairway. On the 16th I missed the way I wanted to hit the putt but it ran right up a hill and into the hole anyway."

The next day, after his great round, Fry didn't collect a birdie until the 18th hole and lost his match on the 39th.

Heartbreak came to him during World War II when his son, Eddie, was killed. Eddie loomed as one of the coming great golfers. He won the Northern California Junior three times, the only golfer to do it.

Today Fry at 56 devotes much of his time to helping youngsters with their golf games. Don Whitt, the young pro who in late May won the Memphis Open, was one of his pupils.

Two heart attacks have limited Fry's activities but not his interest in the game that has been his life work.

Bell To Start Yankee Series

BOSTON (AP) — Postponement of Wednesday's game between the Cleveland Indians and Boston Red Sox has caused Tribe Manager Joe Gordon to scratch Larry Locke as a starting pitcher here.

Locke, a 25-year-old right-hander who was summoned from San Diego, joined the Indians Wednesday and Gordon had planned to start him against the Red Sox in the series finale today.

Following the postponement, Gordon said Mike Garcia, who was scheduled to start that game, would be his pitcher today. Locke probably will be assigned to the bullpen in New York where the Indians open a four-game series with the Yankees Friday night.

The postponed game will be played as part of a doubleheader here Sunday, July 19.

Gordon says he plans to start Gary Bell in the opener against the Yankees. Herb Score, Cal McLish and Don Ferrarese are his other probables in that series.

Ferrarese has been nursing a sore arm since his 2-1 victory over the Orioles in Baltimore last Thursday, but Gordon hopes he will be able to pitch in one game of Sunday's doubleheader.

Wynn Getting Milage From Knuckle Ball

NEW YORK (AP) — Hoyt Wilhelm may own the best knuckle ball in the business but he doesn't have a copyright on the baffling pitch. The knuckler has made Early Wynn a top flight pitcher again.

"Yeah," grinned the Chicago White Sox veteran, "I've been feeding the boys a little bit of the old knuckler this year. For years they've been accusing me of throwing it when I didn't even know how to hold it. So this year I figured I might as well throw it."

Wynn, primarily a fast ball pitcher with a sharp curve and a good slider, adopted a new pitch for obvious reasons. Winner of 20 or more games for three successive seasons, the 39-year-old right-hander slumped to 14 victories in each of the 1957 and 1958 seasons.

"There was a time when my fast ball and curve were good eough," Wynn said, "but why kid myself. I can't throw as hard as I did six, seven years ago. And I get tired quicker. I find that you can throw the knuckler with a little more effort and no strain. Also the new pitch makes the fast ball more effective. . .When I use it."

Unlike Wilhelm, who employs the knuckler 85 per cent of the time, Wynn says he throws it about 12 to 20 times a game.

Wynn currently is tied with Wilhelm for the most victories in the league. Each has nine. The Chicagoan owns the most lifetime victories among all active pitchers in the majors with 258.

Ohio's Muskies Bigger, Man Lands 22½-Pounder

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's muskies are getting bigger.

John Stewart of Greenville caught a 44-inch, 22½-pound "tiger" in Rocky Fork Lake, Highland County, while trolling in deep water over the weekend.

The catch was close to the state record of 30 pounds and 47½ inches set by Medard Cronin of Cleveland, who hooked his prize in Coshocton County's Wills Creek.

Leesville Reservoir in Tuscarawas County surrendered two muskies to Roll Norris of Uhrichsville last weekend. One weighed 19 pounds and measured 41¼ inches. The other was 14 pounds, six ounces and 36 inches.

If you have an Ohio fishing license, and want to fish the Ohio River, you have to sit on the Ohio bank. If you get into a boat and venture on the stream you must have a Kentucky or West Virginia license—because none of the water belongs to the Buckeye State.

The border is the low water mark on the Ohio side. Hayden Olds, chief of the Division of Wildlife, urges negotiation with Kentucky and West Virginia to boost fishing privileges in the river for Buckeye residents.

Quail hunting, approved this year by the Legislature, isn't legal yet. No open season has been set, and the bill doesn't become law until August.

A Hillsboro man, who jumped the gun, was fined $150 and paid $12.50 court costs for bagging three quail recently. An impatient Xenia hunter, with two pheasants in his possession, was fined $100 and court costs of $8.20. Both men were fined an additional $35 for shooting from the highway, by Wilmington Mayor T. W. Downing.

Quail hunting has been outlawed for 46 years, and the pheasant season is some six months away.

Milton B. Trautman, curator of the vertebrate collection at Ohio State University, says he has never seen a one-pound bluegill taken in Ohio—and he challenges Buckeye fishermen to produce one. Trautman's book, "Fishes of Ohio," lists a one-pound three-ounce 12-incher, taken from Pine Lake near Youngstown, as the biggest ever caught in the state. But he's still dubious.

"Many of the big 'bluegills' reported are actually hybrids or redear sunfish," Trautman said.

Cuban Welter Tabbed New 'Kid Gavilan'

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Cubans in the Miami area today hailed what they called "the new Kid Gavilan" in the person of Luis Manuel Rodriguez, a lanky, fast-punching youngster from Camaguey.

Rodriguez soundly whipped former Welterweight Champion Virgil (Honeybear) Akins of St. Louis in a 10-round nationally-televised fight Wednesday night and made a solid impression in his first appearance in this country.

Kid Gavilan ruled the welterweight division from 1952 to 1954, and Rodgieuz, 22 years old, hopes to follow in his footsteps. The young Cuban is unbeaten in 22 fights and operates much on the order of the speedy Gavilan.

Using a flurry of left jabs and right hooks, Rodriguez won all but a couple of rounds in the opinion of Referee Cy Gottfried and two ringside judges.

Although there were no knockdowns, Akins was a tired and beaten man at the end, while Rodriguez was still throwing stinging punches that had closed the former champion's left eye.

Akins won the title June 6, 1958, and lost it to Don Jordan in Los Angeles Dec. 5.

Is Johansson Holding Back In Training?

GROSSINGER, N.Y. (AP)— Is Ingemar Johansson a bum or is he holding back in training?

The chances are the question won't be answered until the night of June 25 when the Swedish challenger steps into the ring against world heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson at Yankee Stadium in New York.

His workout Wednesday was a typical one for the solidly built 26-year-old from Goteborg. He showed a snappy, sometimes stiff left jab against three regular sparmates and his brother, middleweight Rolf. The touted right hand again was used sparingly and once more without power.

The seven-round boxing drill was watched by four ex-champions, Jersey Joe Walcott and Jimmy Braddock (heavyweights) Gus Lesnevich (light heavyweight) and Barney Ross (lightweight and welterweight).

All agreed on one thing, Ingemar is in wonderful condition.

Fry Believes 59 In '38 Was Better Than Snead's

By JACK STEVENSON

ALAMEDA, Calif., (AP) — Sam Snead's recent competitive golf record 59 for 18 holes has brought back fond memories for a fellow you've probably never heard about.

Earl Fry, pro at the Alameda Municipal course the past 32 years, also had a 59—back in 1938.

"I think my round was more sensational than Snead's," Earl declares, "because I wasn't that kind of a golfer and Sam has always been great. The only thing we have in common is that we both wear hats on the course."

Earl recalls:

"My brother, Mark, was the best golfer around in those days and we were playing in the second round of the Northern California PGA, a match play tournament at this Alameda course.

"It had been raining on and off for about 40 days and many of the courses were closed because of soggy fairways.

"I beat my brother 7 and 6, I think it was, but because I was shooting so well, we played out the full 18 holes under regulation conditions. Vito Machado, who worked for me, had given me a good tip on how to cure a hook and it worked. Then my putts starting dropping."

EDITOR'S NOTE: While it is unusual to turn in a medal (stroke) score for a test that began as match (hole-by-hole) play, a USGA spokesman says there is nothing in the rule books to prevent it.)

Fry had 12 birdies. He had 29 strokes on the front nine and 30 on the back nine for his phenomenal 59 over the par 71 course.

Alameda measured about 6,150 yards that day compared with 6,317 for Greenbrier (par 70) at White Sulpher Springs, W. Va., the day of Snead's great round.

Hole by hole, here's how Fry recalls his score:

Par out 445 344 343—34
Par in 544 344 445—37—71
Fry out 335 343 233—29
Fry in 433 333 344—30-59

Fry's long putts included 18-footers on the second and sixth, a 25-footer on the 12th and a 10-footer on the 16th.

Luck played a part also, as Earl remembers:

"On the 12th my tee shot hooked. It could have gone out of bounds but hit a bank and came back onto the fairway. On the 16th I missed the way I wanted to hit the putt but it ran right up a hill and into the hole anyway."

The next day, after his great round, Fry didn't collect a birdie until the 18th hole and lost his match on the 39th.

Heartbreak came to him during World War II when his son, Eddie, was killed. Eddie loomed as one of the coming great golfers. He won the Northern California Junior three times, the only golfer to do it.

Today Fry at 56 devotes much of his time to helping youngsters with their golf games. Don Whitt, the young pro who in late May won the Memphis Open, was one of his pupils.

Two heart attacks have limited Fry's activities but not his interest in the game that has been his life work.

Bell To Start Yankee Series

BOSTON (AP) — Postponement of Wednesday's game between the Cleveland Indians and Boston Red Sox has caused Tribe Manager Joe Gordon to scratch Larry Locke as a starting pitcher here.

Locke, a 25-year-old right-hander who was summoned from San Diego, joined the Indians Wednesday and Gordon had planned to start him against the Red Sox in the series finale today.

Following the postponement, Gordon said Mike Garcia, who was scheduled to start that game, would be his pitcher today. Locke probably will be assigned to the bullpen in New York where the Indians open a four-game series with the Yankees Friday night.

The postponed game will be played as part of a doubleheader here Sunday, July 19.

Gordon says he plans to start Gary Bell in the opener against the Yankees. Herb Score, Cal McLish and Don Ferrarese are his other probables in that series.

Ferrarese has been nursing a sore arm since his 2-1 victory over the Orioles in Baltimore last Thursday, but Gordon hopes he will be able to pitch in one game of Sunday's doubleheader.

Parade Float Entries Asked; Midland To Clean Vacant Lots

Midland's July 4th celebration committee today urged parade float sponsors to turn in entries and reminded residents to clean up vacant lots.

A large number of floats have been reported entered. The parade will form at 9:30 a. m. at the 1st. playground and move at 10:30 a. m.

Several organizations will begin work on floats during the weekend, their committees said.

A final cleanup warning was given by Council last week and today was set as a deadline for residents to clear vacant lots. Borough employes will now clean the lots at the owners' expense.

Midland police will erect traffic and parking signs next week and plenty of parking spaces will be available to visitors as residents will put their own autos in "mothballs" for the day, sponsors said.

Following the parade and flag dedication ceremonies, the afternoon activities will include two band concerts, children's races, a jazz concert and a double-header ball game at Crucible field.

The Lincoln High School band will give a concert at 12:15 p. m. followed by the Patterson Township concert band at 1:15. Children's races will be at 2 p. m. the jazz concert, featuring Bob Donley's combo, John Cilli's combo and the Bisen Tambouritzans and several barbership quartets will perform. These will be held in Lincoln Park.

Clowns will entertain with exhibition swimmers and a water show at Veterans Memorial pool at 3 p. m. A puppet show will be held for children. Jimmy Sebastian's Monaca Cornet Band will give a concert from 5 to 7 p. m.

Massed colors of all drill teams and a finale following a variety show in the stadium will preceed the first fireworks scheduled to go off at 10 p. m.

Several additional pioneers have volunteered to head the parade in antique automobiles.

Parade Float Entries Asked; Midland To Clean Vacant Lots

Midland's July 4th celebration committee today urged parade float sponsors to turn in entries and reminded residents to clean up vacant lots.

A large number of floats have been reported entered. The parade will form at 9:30 a. m. at the 1st. playground and move at 10:30 a. m.

Several organizations will begin work on floats during the weekend, their committees said.

A final cleanup warning was given by Council last week and today was set as a deadline for residents to clear vacant lots. Borough employes will now clean the lots at the owners' expense.

Midland police will erect traffic and parking signs next week and plenty of parking spaces will be available to visitors as residents will put their own autos in "mothballs" for the day, sponsors said.

Following the parade and flag dedication ceremonies, the afternoon activities will include two band concerts, children's races, a jazz concert and a double-header ball game at Crucible field.

The Lincoln High School band will give a concert at 12:15 p. m. followed by the Patterson Township concert band at 1:15. Children's races will be at 2 p. m. the jazz concert, featuring Bob Donley's combo, John Cilli's combo and the Bisen Tambouritzans and several barbership quartets will perform. These will be held in Lincoln Park.

Clowns will entertain with exhibition swimmers and a water show at Veterans Memorial pool at 3 p. m. A puppet show will be held for children. Jimmy Sebastian's Monaca Cornet Band will give a concert from 5 to 7 p. m.

Massed colors of all drill teams and a finale following a variety show in the stadium will preceed the first fireworks scheduled to go off at 10 p. m.

Several additional pioneers have volunteered to head the parade in antique automobiles.

Change In Beneficiary Of GI Insurance Cited

World War I, World War II, and Korean veterans contemplating change of beneficiaries in National Service Life Insurance and U. S. Government Life Insurance policies were cautioned by A. G. Bille of the Veterans Administration Office at Steubenville, to acquaint themselves with correct procedure.

Erroneous information, he said, is the cause of confusion and delay and handicaps the work of the VA inurance offices.

Bille advised that the proper completion of the change of beneficiary VA Form 9-336 will eliminate delay in securing the desired changes of beneficiary. The forms can be obtained at the VA Office at 227 N. 5th St., Steubenville.

Post-Revolution Atmosphere

Communists In No Hurry To Take Chances In Iraq

William L. Ryan has revisited Iraq, a country he last saw just before the 1958 revolution which killed the king. In this dispatch, written free of censorship, he describes the current atmosphere.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — For the past few weeks nobody in Baghdad, as far as can be learned has spat on an American.

Perhaps the atmosphere of carnival is wearing off in Iraq. The confused young men charging about the streets of Iraqi cities, intoxicated by nose-thumbing slogans, went on a monumental binge after the revolution last July.

Now the ardor is fading a bit. Even the uniformed youngsters of the "popular resistance forces" seem bored. They still stop cars and search some, but the old zeal is gone.

Iraqi soldiers still live in tents on the U.S. Embassy grounds. A soldier with fixed bayonet looks at the credentials of those who go in. Iraqi intelligence men haunt the place. But it's not so annoying as it once was.

Red banners with violent slogans hang on buildings or flutter over the streets, more in evidence than the traditional green of Islam.

Women with black veils covering their heads and faces, black abbas billowing about them, squat unceremoniously in the dust-covered streets to gossip and attend to the needs of squalling children.

Kurdish porters with incredible loads on their backs stagger doggedly through the streets, oblivious to propaganda. Stolid farmers belabor slow-moving, heavily burdened donkeys weaving their way along the crowded sidewalks.

Their landlords, once entitled to the deferential respect due feudal lords, mutter glumly to one another in the coffee houses about the confiscation of lands under the revolutionary regime.

Workers at key city squares in Baghdad, sweltering in the cruel sunshine, labor against time to erect expensive triumphal arches for the revolution anniversary July 14. The job keeps a corps of workers busy.

Bookstores display the latest pamphlets published in Communist countries. The shopkeepers have little choice about this. The newspapers with dreary unanimity follow the lead of the Communist press in spreading the cliches of Communist propaganda. All refer to Iraq's future as one of popular democracy. All pay tribute to the Soviet Union.

Everywhere, on pillars, in shop windows, on buildings, there are pictures. There are pictures of renowned revolutionary poets, pictures of Communist heroes like Lenin, Stalin and Khrushchev. But the picture which dominates all the others in the hot, dusty, dirty and overcrowded streets is that of the premier, Maj. Gen. Abdel Karim Kassem.

At one stage the Communists were ready to grab, at the least, a large share of governmental authority. Suddenly they pulled back.

It was a bitter pill to swallow for those who believed the party ready to move. Relatively small in number, the disciplined hard core commanded the only well-organized political party. It had control of virtually all mass organizations. Street mobs were its playthings.

Soviet and Communistic bloc penetration had been swift and heavy. Many hundreds of foreign Communists poured in: technical teams, cultural teams, propaganda training teams, engineering, economic and military missions, experts in swarms.

Kassem apparently still had army support, but the eager ones among the Communists seemed confident they could handle the problem.

Then the Communists backtracked, called off an "education campaign" for participation in the government, proclaimed their loyalty to Kassem.

What caused this reversal?

First, Kassem's resistance to the Communists seemed to have stiffened.

Then, despite a great deal of noise hitting at President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic, it was plain Nasser still had considerable personal following in Iraq. And Nasser had turned violently on communism.

For Moscow it became a choice: take power in a country which still could blow up or retain whatever gains Soviet policy had made in the Middle East toward long-range goals. Moscow risked provoking a solid Middle East anti-Communist front under Nasser leadership. Iraq, lacking a frontier with a Communist power, might not long be held firmly in the Red grip.

The Communists' Iraqi party secretary general, Salam Adil, attended international Communist meetings in Moscow. He came home and proclaimed: no party alone could "shoulder the responsibility of liberating the country." There would be no showdown with Kassem at this time, no attempt to grab power.

Moscow, alert to the complexities of the Arab East, seems in no hurry to take rash chances. Attractive as oil-rich Iraq might seem in the role of Communist satellite, the risk are great. Nasser defeated the Communists once before in Syria, when they were almost strong enough to grab for power. They have reason to respect him, even now.

Columbus Policeman Cleared In Man's Death

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Patrolman Charles E. Lewis, whose revolver discharged while he was frisking a suspected car thief, has been cleared of criminal responsibility in the man's death.

Police Chief George Scholer said Wednesday no disciplinary action will be taken against the 38-year-old patrolman whose gun killed James Evans, 24. The chief said Lewis was properly carrying out his duty.

Evans was apprehended by Lewis early Tuesday after the victim's brother reported his car stolen and Evans was seen driving it. The patrolman was reaching for his handcuffs when his gun went off.

Rossmeisel Gave Up

2 Ex-Nazi POWs Missing Out Of 2,803 Escapees

By JACK ADAMS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Out of the grand total of 2,803 men who escaped from prisoner-of-war camps in this country during World War II, only two one-time German soldiers are still missing.

Until very recently, there were three in this exclusive club. But on May 10, Kurt Rossmeisl, 52, once an officer in the Panzer Division of Adolf Hitler's North Afrika Corps, walked voluntarily into the FBI field office at Cincinnati, Ohio. Suffering from arthritis, he said he just wanted to give himself up.

An accomplished linguist, Rossmeisl escaped from a North Carolina camp in 1945, adopted the name "Frank Ellis," got a social security card and made a fairly comfortable life for himself for 14 years in the Chicago area, working as a punch-press operator, elevator man, bartender and waiter.

Once, about five years ago, a national magazine ran his picture. A fellow-worker in the hotel where he was employed thought it looked an awful lot like Frank Ellis. But Frank's boss laughed off the idea, and nothing came of the incident —except that Frank shortly afterward changed jobs and associates.

For him, the tap on the shoulder never came. But he apparently got tired of waiting for it.

At an Immigration Service hearing at Cincinnati June 4, Rossmeisl was ruled deportable. However, he requested, and got, permission to leave the country voluntarily so that he might re-enter as a regular immigrant and apply for American citizenship.

With Rossmeisl's surrender, the unaccounted dropped off to:

1. Georg Gaertner, who if living would be 38.

2. A man who always insisted on calling himself Charly King, but who according to the FBI is really named Curt Richard Westphal. He would be 37.

Pictures of both these men still appear on conventional FBI "wanted" fliers on the walls of some federal buildings, but no active search is being made for them. So far as is known, they have broken no laws in this country. They could not be prosecuted for escaping their camps in 1945—that is forbidden by the Geneva Convention on the conduct of wars among civilized nations.

Boys Given Probation For Entry Of Car Lot

LISBON — Three 14-year-old Lisbon area boys were placed on probation at a hearing Wednesday before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin for breaking and entering the Davis used car lot on Route 45, half a mile north of Lisbon early Saturday morning.

They admitted to breaking into the office, taking ignition keys off board and driving cars around in the lot.

Fr. William Nohman and the Rev. C. O. Armstrong will be their probation officers. They were also fined $15 each and must earn the money and report how. They will be under a 7 p. m. curfew for the next 60 days and must attend church and Sunday School.

Psychiatric examination was ordered for one.

Driver Forfeits

LISBON — Gerald E. Evans, 25, of Sunset Dr. forfeited $15 bond in Mayor John Todd's court Tuesday when he failed to appear for a hearing on a charge of speeding. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol.

They're Well Named

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Two persons applying to the state wildlife department for fish to use in stocking ponds were William Fish and Sam Bass.

Americans' Personal Income Reached New Record In May

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government announced Wednesday that the personal income of all Americans rose in May to a record annual rate of $376,200,000,000. The increase for the month was three billion on an annual basis.

Secretary of Commerce Lewis L. Strauss issued a special statement which said:

"This high level of purchasing power is a basis for the business confidence so generally evident, and for the strong hope for further increases in employment."

The Commerce Department report was the second this week to point up the transition of the economy from recovery to a new boom. The Federal Reserve Board announced Monday that industrial production advanced to a high last month.

Personal income in May was up 7 per cent or 25 billion dollars on a yearly basis from May 1957.

"Each month this year," Strauss said, "has shown a higher rate of personal income than the one before—in a period of virtually no alteration in the consumer price level."

The report said the surge in incomes from a year ago represents for the most part real gains in the buying power of the average American, inasmuch as retail prices advanced only fractionally during the interim.

Most of the May increase in income was in wages and salaries which were up 2½ billion dollars to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $255,800,000,000.

The report said payroll advances centered in manufacturing, with durable goods industries scoring particularly sharp gains. Metals and machinery manufacturing showed the biggest increases.

She Likes Cats

MUSKOGEE, Okla. (AP) — Miss Mary Carolyn Boudinot, said she preferred her 40 cats to living in Muskogee. A court ruled she must give up all but four her 40 cats, but she said she would move first.

2 Ex-Nazi POWs Missing Out Of 2,803 Escapees

By JACK ADAMS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Out of the grand total of 2,803 men who escaped from prisoner-of-war camps in this country during World War II, only two one-time German soldiers are still missing.

Until very recently, there were three in this exclusive club. But on May 10, Kurt Rossmeisl, 52, once an officer in the Panzer Division of Adolf Hitler's North Afrika Corps, walked voluntarily into the FBI field office at Cincinnati, Ohio. Suffering from arthritis, he said he just wanted to give himself up.

An accomplished linguist, Rossmeisl escaped from a North Carolina camp in 1945, adopted the name "Frank Ellis," got a social security card and made a fairly comfortable life for himself for 14 years in the Chicago area, working as a punch-press operator, elevator man, bartender and waiter.

Once, about five years ago, a national magazine ran his picture. A fellow-worker in the hotel where he was employed thought it looked an awful lot like Frank Ellis. But Frank's boss laughed off the idea, and nothing came of the incident—except that Frank shortly afterward changed jobs and associates.

For him, the tap on the shoulder never came. But he apparently got tired of waiting for it.

At an Immigration Service hearing at Cincinnati June 4, Rossmeisl was ruled deportable. However, he requested, and got, permission to leave the country voluntarily so that he might re-enter as a regular immigrant and apply for American citizenship.

With Rossmeisl's surrender, the unaccounted dropped off to:

1. Georg Gaertner, who if living would be 38.

2. A man who always insisted on calling himself Charly King, but who according to the FBI is really named Curt Richard Westphal. He would be 37.

Pictures of both these men still appear on conventional FBI "wanted" fliers on the walls of some federal buildings, but no active search is being made for them. So far as is known, they have broken no laws in this country. They could not be prosecuted for escaping their camps in 1945—that is forbidden by the Geneva Convention on the conduct of wars among civilized nations.

Boys Given Probation For Entry Of Car Lot

LISBON — Three 14-year-old Lisbon area boys were placed on probation at a hearing Wednesday before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin for breaking and entering the Davis used car lot on Route 45, half a mile north of Lisbon early Saturday morning.

They admitted to breaking into the office, taking ignition keys off board and driving cars around in the lot.

Fr. William Nohman and the Rev. C. O. Armstrong will be their probation officers. They were also fined $15 each and must earn the money and report how. They will be under a 7 p. m. curfew for the next 60 days and must attend church and Sunday School.

Psychiatric examination was ordered for one.

Driver Forfeits

LISBON — Gerald E. Evans, 25, of Sunset Dr. forfeited $15 bond in Mayor John Todd's court Tuesday when he failed to appear for a hearing on a charge of speeding. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Americans' Personal Income Reached New Record In May

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government announced Wednesday that the personal income of all Americans rose in May to a record annual rate of $376,200,000,000. The increase for the month was three billion on an annual basis.

Secretary of Commerce Lewis L. Strauss issued a special statement which said:

"This high level of purchasing power is a basis for the business confidence so generally evident, and for the strong hope for further increases in employment."

The Commerce Department report was the second this week to point up the transition of the economy from recovery to a new boom. The Federal Reserve Board announced Monday that industrial production advanced to a high last month.

Personal income in May was up 7 per cent or 25 billion dollars on a yearly basis from May 1957.

"Each month this year," Strauss said, "has shown a higher rate of personal income than the one before—in a period of virtually no alteration in the consumer price level."

The report said the surge in incomes from a year ago represents for the most part real gains in the buying power of the average American, inasmuch as retail prices advanced only fractionally during the interim.

Most of the May increase in income was in wages and salaries which were up 2½ billion dollars to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $255,800,000,000.

The report said payroll advances centered in manufacturing, with durable goods industries scoring particularly sharp gains. Metals and machinery manufacturing showed the biggest increases.

MUSKOGEE, Okla. (AP) — Miss Mary Carolyn Boudinot, said she preferred her 40 cats to living in Muskogee. A court ruled she must give up all but four her 40 cats, but she said she would move first.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Overweight Young Mothers Face Challenge

"I am only 22 years old, have the most wonderful husband and two beautiful children, and I so want to be happy but my 40 pounds of overweight make me just the opposite. I've gone on starvation diets, taken pills... all to no avail. I eat a light supper, promising myself this will be the start of a new diet. I can't count how many times that has happened since I've gained all this weight.

Ida Jean Kain

"If you have any diet charts, rules or exercises, I would be more than happy to have this knowledge. I am sincere and feel if I had someone to help, I could to it. I don't want to think of myself as helpless."

The above letter from a disheartened young mother is typical of the letters received from young mothers in their early twenties. They seem mildly determined, but express no real enthusiasm or hope. All those who are game to accept a challenge, tune in.

ARE YOU WILLING to accept adult responsibility for what you eat? Face the fact that you must accept this responsibility with no policing from anyone.

The turning to food for comfort is a childish reaction to real or imagined problems. Stop looking for some magic way to reduce. That plan will get you nowhere.

When you take a mature attitude toward food and look upon a scientifically planned diet as helping you to get what you want, then you no longer feel deprived. Perhaps your biggest hurdle is that you look upon diet as punishment in the form of deprivation. From this day on, regard the science of nutrition as a privilege and your mind will tend to dwell on the advantages.

Starting this very day, eat three moderate meals and write down every bite of food you eat. Opposite each food, list the calories within 1,100 to 1,200 for the day, you will lose 2 pounds each week. Be sure to have a late afternoon energy boost, such as skim milk, fruit juice or bouillon with gelatine.

Any measure that rouses enthusiasm is a big help in pulling out of a rut. Get out the tape measure and record your measurements. Six weeks from today you can wear a size smaller dress. Exercise can be doubly rewarding to young mothers.

Take specific calisthenics to strengthen and restore tone to overly stretched middle muscles. Exercise daily.

THE CHIEF WAY to develop will power is through desire and visualizing. Get your mind pulling for you. Picture in your mind's eye the way you intend to look—slim, lithe, and as shapely as the girl he married.

When tempted to indulge, flash that picture on your mental screen. Have you got what it takes?

Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for "Hunger Control Diet" and illustrated leaflets entitled "Take Your Measure" and "Away With Middle Spread." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY MEYERS

Study Habits Must Be Taught Early

Children at the junior or senior high school levels, who are not doing well at school usually have poor habits of home study. Some are not at home for early evening study. Friends A few have in then. Many others fool around for a long while before settling down to homework. Many roam about the house after they do begin or pause for a program on the air or to talk to a pal or two on the telephone. These children find all sorts of ways to run away from work. Parents who still have control can require such a youth to be home on evenings before school days and to be in a certain place at a certain time with his books. Although they can enforce some other regulations, they can't make the youth concentrate on his lessons.

By Garry Meyers

THEREFORE, anything they can do to help him study better may enhance his concentration.

Unfortunately, many parents are not able to help the high school youth with his homework. But parents who are good readers, no matter how little formal schooling they have had, may help this youth to read better from his school assignments.

It's in the child's early years in the grades that parents can do most to cultivate study habits that will be useful to him in high school.

Here is how to do it:

Train your child before he enters school to come home when he is summoned. Establish regulations of TV use.

Read daily to him and, as soon as he can read, require him to read for at least a half hour each evening and not from comic books.

AS HE REACHES the middle grades, have him spend a longer period reading each evening if he is not engaged with other homework. See that he does such at a regular time and place.

If your child is not a good reader, find easier and more interesting things for him to read. Any signs of lag at school will cause you to try harder to help him improve his reading.

From his early years, train the child to observe certain family regulations and routines.

After entering school, he should be required to do some regular chores at home. Without such practice, he is poorly prepared to work hard and faithfully at his school-assigned lessons.

Upon such matters as these, your child's future education and success will largely depend.

My bulletins, "Parents and the Child's Homework" and "Helping Child With Lessons at Home," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Dave Beck Indicted For $200,000 Deal

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Teamsters boss Dave Beck and two trucking executives were indicted by a federal grand jury Wednesday for a mysterious $200,000 deal of five years ago. It was represented as a loan to Beck in repayment for past financial favors.

The indictment was linked with testimony two years ago before the Senate Rackets Investigation Committee in Washington, and a subsequent inquiry into Beck's income tax returns.

Miami U. Due Loan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Miami University at Oxford, Ohio, will receive a $4,025,000 loan from the Community Facilities Administration to build five dormitories and two dining halls. Rep. Paul F. Schenck (R-Ohio), who announced the loan, said the university will provide $3,675,000 from its own funds.

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Overweight Young Mothers Face Challenge

"I am only 22 years old, have the most wonderful husband and two beautiful children, and I so want to be happy but my 40 pounds of overweight make me just the opposite. I've gone on starvation diets, taken pills... all to no avail. I eat a light supper, promising myself this will be the start of a new diet. I can't count how many times that has happened since I've gained all this weight.

Ida Jean Kain

"If you have any diet charts, rules or exercises, I would be more than happy to have this knowledge. I am sincere and feel if I had someone to help, I could to it. I don't want to think of myself as helpless."

The above letter from a disheartened young mother is typical of the letters received from young mothers in their early twenties. They seem mildly determined, but express no real enthusiasm or hope. All those who are game to accept a challenge, tune in.

ARE YOU WILLING to accept adult responsibility for what you eat? Face the fact that you must accept this responsibility with no policing from anyone.

The turning to food for comfort is a childish reaction to real or imagined problems. Stop looking for some magic way to reduce. That plan will get you nowhere.

When you take a mature attitude toward food and look upon a scientifically planned diet as helping you to get what you want, then you no longer feel deprived. Perhaps your biggest hurdle is that you look upon diet as punishment in the form of deprivation. From this day on, regard the science of nutrition as a privilege and your mind will tend to dwell on the advantages.

Starting this very day, eat three moderate meals and write down every bite of food you eat. Opposite each food, list the calories within 1,100 to 1,200 for the day, you will lose 2 pounds each week. Be sure to have a late afternoon energy boost, such as skim milk, fruit juice or bouillon with gelatine.

Any measure that rouses enthusiasm is a big help in pulling out of a rut. Get out the tape measure and record your measurements. Six weeks from today you can wear a size smaller dress. Exercise can be doubly rewarding to young mothers.

Take specific calisthenics to strengthen and restore tone to overly stretched middle muscles. Exercise daily.

THE CHIEF WAY to develop will power is through desire and visualizing. Get your mind pulling for you. Picture in your mind's eye the way you intend to look—slim, lithe, and as shapely as the girl he married.

When tempted to indulge, flash that picture on your mental screen. Have you got what it takes?

Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for "Hunger Control Diet" and illustrated leaflets entitled "Take Your Measure" and "Away With Middle Spread." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY MEYERS

Study Habits Must Be Taught Early

Children at the junior or senior high school levels, who are not doing well at school usually have poor habits of home study.

By Garry Meyers

Some are not at home for early evening study. Friends A few have in then. Many others fool around for a long while before settling down to homework. Many roam about the house after they do begin or pause for a program on the air or to talk to a pal or two on the telephone. These children find all sorts of ways to run away from work. Parents who still have control can require such a youth to be home on evenings before school days and to be in a certain place at a certain time with his books. Although they can enforce some other regulations, they can't make the youth concentrate on his lessons.

THEREFORE, anything they can do to help him study better may enhance his concentration.

Unfortunately, many parents are not able to help the high school youth with his homework. But parents who are good readers, no matter how little formal schooling they have had, may help this youth to read better from his school assignments.

It's in the child's early years in the grades that parents can do most to cultivate study habits that will be useful to him in high school.

Here is how to do it:

Train your child before he enters school to come home when he is summoned. Establish regulations of TV use.

Read daily to him and, as soon as he can read, require him to read for at least a half hour each evening and not from comic books.

AS HE REACHES the middle grades, have him spend a longer period reading each evening if he is not engaged with other homework. See that he does such at a regular time and place.

If your child is not a good reader, find easier and more interesting things for him to read. Any signs of lag at school will cause you to try harder to help him improve his reading.

From his early years, train the child to observe certain family regulations and routines.

After entering school, he should be required to do some regular chores at home. Without such practice, he is poorly prepared to work hard and faithfully at his school-assigned lessons.

Upon such matters as these, your child's future education and success will largely depend.

My bulletins, "Parents and the Child's Homework" and "Helping Child With Lessons at Home," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Dave Beck Indicted For $200,000 Deal

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Teamsters boss Dave Beck and two trucking executives were indicted by a federal grand jury Wednesday for a mysterious $200,000 deal of five years ago. It was represented as a loan to Beck in repayment for past financial favors.

The indictment was linked with testimony two years ago before the Senate Rackets Investigation Committee in Washington, and a subsequent inquiry into Beck's income tax returns.

Miami U. Due Loan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Miami University at Oxford, Ohio, will receive a $4,025,000 loan from the Community Facilities Administration to build five dormitories and two dining halls. Rep. Paul F. Schenck (R-Ohio), who announced the loan, said the university will provide $3,675,000 from its own funds.

Housewives Lead Parade Of Women To 'Big Board'

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Those women you see in stockbrokers' boardrooms in increasing numbers these days aren't just resting their feet.

They're buying stocks in ever greater volume. In the list of Americans who have bought their first share of stock in the last three years, housewives lead all the rest. Women shareowners have outnumbered men for some time. But they have increased their lead since 1956.

Some four million women classifying themselves as housewives now own stock, the biggest single group in the New York Stock Exchange's 1959 census of shareowners.

This shows that women now are 52.5 per cent of all adult shareowners, compared with 51.4 per cent in 1956 when the last census was taken. Altogether there are 12,490,000 men and women who have at least one share.

And among the new comers to corporate stockholder lists since 1956 women outnumber men by 56.3 per cent to 43.7 per cent.

Altogether there are 6,347,000 women shareowners in the land, the stock exchange estimates in its survey, or about 11.5 per cent of the nation's aduit female population. Three years ago 4,260,000 women held stock, or 8.1 per cent of their total number.

Of all women shareowners 1,275,000 are housewives who have jobs outside the home.

The increase in working housewives could be one reason that women are more and more involved in the stock market. Women have more money nowadays to spend—and to invest.

Another could be that women live intimately with inflation. As handlers of the family spending money they know what had happened to their bills and to the purchasing power of their dollar. Many may look on stocks as a good hedge against this.

Capital gains through rising stock prices appeal to them, too, as compared to fixed interest returns on other investments.

Brokers add that their women customers are active bargain seekers — although finding bargains in stocks has become harder to do in a soaring bull market.

While the career girls and the other women employed in business are taking to the stock market, too, it's the housewife who is the shining light in the boardrooms these days. They now total one third of all the shareowners in the land. Their numbers have increased by 1,170,000 since 1956.

Next largest groups of shareowners are: proprietors, managers, and officials; professional and semiprofessional; and clerical and sales. There are many women among each of these three occupational groups.
